Contents

Acknowledgments ix
Introduction: Caribbean Groundings and Limbo Gateways 1
Supriya M. Nair

Part I: Movements and Migrations

The Other Postcolonial Wars: Amerindians versus Coastlanders in The Ventriloquist's Tale 29
Albert Braz

The Slave Narrative in the Anglophone Caribbean 45
Nicole N. Aljoe

Locating India in the Caribbean: Indo-Caribbean Literature, Gender, and Subjectivity 60
Brinda Mehta

Behind the Counter: Teaching Chinese Jamaican Texts in the Caribbean Literature Course 80
Timothy Chin

Anglophone Caribbean Immigrants in the Harlem Renaissance 98
Louis J. Parascandola

Black Britain and Its Antecedents 113
John C. Hawley

Literary and Linguistic Crossings: The Shifting Boundaries of Anglophone Caribbean Literature 131
April Shemak

Part II: Ritual, Performance, and Popular Culture

"Disguise Up de English Language": Turning Linguistic Tricks in Creole-Anglophone Caribbean Literature 155
Carolyn Cooper

"Play Mas Bachannal": Toward a Pedagogy of J'ouvert and Identity Politics 168
Paula Morgan

Using Film to Enhance Cultural Understanding: Images of Jamaica in How Stella Got Her Groove Back and The Harder They Come 183
Giselle Liza Anatol

From Obeah to Syncretism: Teaching Gothic Literature and Early Caribbean Spiritual Culture 199
Joshua Albert Brewer

The Politics of Collective Creation: Teaching Sistren's Bellywoman Bangarang and Ida Revolt inna Jonkonnu Stylee 220
Karina Smith

Part III: Interpretive Approaches

Reading the Nineteenth Century 233
Faith Smith

Beyond the Pale, Beyond the Dark: Representing Caribbean Racial Realities at a US University 255
Rhonda Frederick

Materializing the Anglophone Caribbean Text: Rum, a Case Study 279
Jennifer P. Nesbitt

Unspeakable Thoughts, Unspoken Loss in Shani Mootoo's Cereus Blooms at Night: Trauma, Gender, and Sexuality 292
Grant Farred

On Daffodils and Castaways: Intertextual Approaches to Teaching Anglophone Caribbean Literature 305
Shane Graham

Reading about Reading in the Anglophone Caribbean Novel 317
Alisa K. Braithwaite

Anglophone Caribbean Literature in Context: A Comparative Perspective 330
Vivian Nun Halloran

Part IV: Course Contexts

Teaching Anglophone Caribbean Literature: Creolization, Carnival, Crossings 343
Elaine Savory

Autobiographical Occasions: A Graduate Seminar in Caribbean Autobiography 365
Sandra Pouchet Paquet

Teaching Mary Seacole in a First-Year Writing Seminar 380
Elizabeth Way

"Prediction and Memory": Two Texts in Conversation: Homer's Odyssey and Derek Walcott's Omeros 405
Mimi Pipino

Gender, the Pastoral, and the Postcolonial Caribbean 420
Denise deCaires Narain

Part V: Teaching Resources

A Selective Guide to Anglophone Caribbean Literature 435
Supriya M. Nair

Notes on Contributors 445
Index 451