CONTENTS

Preface 1

PART ONE: MATERIALS
Eileen Barrett

Editions 7
London Maps and Walks 9
Reference Works 10
Biographies 11
Mrs. Dalloway Basics 11
Woolf's Own Writing 12
Critical Reception and Changing Perspectives 14
Narrative, Philosophical, and Psychological 14
Feminist, Lesbian, and Queer 15
Cultural, Historical, and Postcolonial 16
Woolf and Other Writers 17
Multimedia and Popular Culture 19

PART TWO: APPROACHES

Introduction 23
Ruth O. Saxton

Approaching a Modernist Text

Experiencing Modernity in Mrs. Dalloway 27
James F. Knapp

"The Proper Stuff of Fiction": Virginia Woolf and the Meaning of the Modern 32
Lecia Rosenthal

"Life Struck Straight through the Streets": Mrs. Dalloway as City Novel 39
Victoria Rosner

On Not Knowing Virginia Woolf 44
Nick Smart

A Space of Her Own: Women, Spatial Practices, and Mrs. Dalloway 49
Antonia Losano

Using the Context of War

"Are YOU in This?" Using British Recruiting Posters to Teach Mrs. Dalloway 53
Meg Albrinck

Circling the Cenotaph: Mrs. Dalloway, Historical Trauma, and the Archive 58
Marlene A. Briggs

Teaching Mrs. Dalloway as a World War I Novel 64
Margot Norris

Women and War in Mrs. Dalloway 68
Anne E. Fernald

Reading Intertextually

Mrs. Dalloway and Carpe Diem Conventions 72
David Leon Higdon

Mrs. Dalloway and the Long Nineteenth Century 80
Judith Seaboyer

Reading at the Intersections: Teaching Mrs. Dalloway in a Class on Retellings 85
Mary Beth Pringle

Teaching Mrs. Dalloway(s) and Film 91
Leslie Kathleen Hankins

Mrs. Dalloway and the Ideology of Death: A Cultural Studies Approach 97
Madelyn Detloff

Teaching in Multiple Settings

Wading into the Narrative Stream: Techniques for Two-Year College Readers 102
Karen McLeer

Drawing Mrs. Dalloway in a Literary Masterworks Course 107
Ruth Hoberman

"They Have Loved Reading": Mrs. Dalloway and Lifelong Common Readers 112
Beth Rigel Daugherty

Overcoming Resistance to Lesbian Readings of Mrs. Dalloway 118
Christine W. Sizemore

Mrs. Dalloway Goes to Prison 123
Martha Greene Eads

Practically Speaking: Mrs. Dalloway and Life in the Professions 128
Marcia Day Childress

Notes on Contributors 133

Survey Participants 137

Works Cited 139
Writings of Virginia Woolf 139
Other Sources 140

Index of Names 163