SUBSCRIPTION INFORMATION

The print version of the Job Information List is published four times during the academic year—in October, December, February, and April. Listings are solicited from two- and four-year colleges and universities for all issues. The cost of an online-only subscription is $35. The cost of a print-only subscription is $45 in the United States and Canada and $70 elsewhere. The cost of a subscription to both online and print versions is $65 in the United States and Canada and $90 elsewhere. The List is sent by first-class mail to subscribers in the United States and Canada and by airmail to all other areas; delivery should be shortly after the publication dates listed below. Please note, however, that these are projected dates only and are subject to change without notice. A subscription form is available at www.mla.org.

October issue	18 October 2002
December issue	15 November 2002
February issue	14 February 2003
April issue	15 April 2003

Further inquiries should be directed to Roy Chustek, Editor, Job Information List, MLA, 26 Broadway, 3rd floor, New York, NY 10004 (646 576-5133; rchustek@mla.org).

ACCESSING THE ELECTRONIC JIL

An online version of the Job Information List is available for searching by individuals who have subscribed to the electronic JIL as well as by job seekers in ADE- and ADFL-member departments. A user name and password are required to search the database. To find your user name and password, follow these directions:

If you are an individual subscriber: If you already have a user name and password, use them. If you do not, you may retrieve them online at the MLA Web site (www.mla.org). Follow the link to the JIL page and click on the appropriate "Search" button; when the password prompt appears, scroll down and enter your e-mail address in the appropriate box and click "E-mail me." Your user name and password will be sent to the e-mail address that you specified when you subscribed. You have the option to change your user name and password whenever you choose by logging in at the JIL page and then clicking the "Subscriber Information" button at the top of the search form and following the instructions for changing your user name and password.

If you are a job seeker in an ADE- or ADFL-member department: Graduate students and faculty members in departments that are current paid members of ADE or ADFL have access to the online JIL as a benefit of their department's ADE or ADFL membership. You must access the JIL through the ADE or ADFL home pages (www.adefl.org; www.adfl.org). Information on how to access the online JIL on this basis is available from your department chair.

INFORMATION FOR CANDIDATES

In This Issue

The December issue contains notices describing approximately 340 definite and possible positions. Readers should note that departments are not encouraged to repeat listings that have appeared in the October issue. If a notice published in the October JIL does not reappear in this issue, readers should not assume that the position is no longer available. The only reliable guide to application is to check the deadline reported in the original notice or a current announcement in this List.

Guide for Using the Job Information List

US and Canadian Departments

The main body of the List, arranged in alphabetical order by state, contains information on definite or possible vacancies and notices from departments that expect no vacancies but would nevertheless like to keep résumés on file.

Read through this section item by item to see which departments would welcome your letter of application or inquiry at this time. Send letters only to departments expressing an interest in a person with your qualifications. If a notice states that no vacancies are expected but that the department would like to maintain a file of prospective candidates, you must decide in each case whether it is worthwhile to write.

Comparative Literature and Linguistics and ESL Sections

Notices in these fields have been separated out from the main body of the issue and placed under the appropriate heading.

General Advice for Candidates

Be sure that your dossier (transcript, letters of recommendation, and other material) is ready to be sent out by your placement bureau to any department that requests it. Prepare and duplicate a one-page vita sheet to enclose with any letters of application or inquiry. In your letter of application, it is probably wise to express a willingness to be interviewed at the department's convenience. Professional meetings provide a convenient opportunity for such interviews (see MLA convention information on p. iii).

While it is important to begin to search for a position immediately, you should be aware that hiring goes on all year. Surveys indicate that only about half of all English and foreign language departments have begun recruiting by the end of December and that the majority of departments do not complete the recruiting process until spring, in some cases until summer.

Bear in mind that the candidate who has not limited his or her search for a new position to a particular geographical area or kind of institution is most likely to find a position. Do not discount the small colleges where one often has the opportunity to teach a wide selection of courses to students of varied backgrounds.

Notice on Tenure Policies

The Modern Language Association recommends that department administrators and their representatives inform candidates before or during the interview about prospects for tenure in the specific position under consideration and about the tenure policies and practices in their departments and institutions. If the information is not offered, candidates are urged to inquire about these policies.

Acknowledgment of Applications

Acting on a recommendation from the MLA Delegate Assembly, the MLA Executive Council has adopted a policy calling for departments to acknowledge all applications for announced positions either by letter or by self-addressed postcards provided by applicants.

MLA Policy on the Reimbursement of Job Seekers

The following policies were recommended by the Delegate Assembly in December 1999 and approved by the MLA Executive Council in February 2000.

It is MLA policy that:

- Departments that require that job applicants send their application materials by express carrier reimburse those applicants for the cost of such shipment; and
- Departments that require multiple copies of writing samples and other application materials from job applicants reimburse applicants for the cost of duplicating their writing samples and other materials; and
- Departments that require books will return them to the applicant; and
- Departments that invite job applicants for on-campus interviews reimburse those applicants who accept such invitations for the costs of travel and accommodations incurred when visiting the campus for interviews.

MLA Guide to the Job Search

The MLA Guide to the Job Search (New York: MLA, 1997) contains much useful information and advice to assist candidates in organizing their job searches confidently and competently. Copies of the Guide are available to JIL subscribers for $5.00 and no shipping and handling charge. The regular price of the Guide is $10.00 ($8.00 for MLA members), plus $3.00 for shipping and handling. To order a copy, write, enclosing a check, to MLA Member and Customer Services, 26 Broadway, 3rd floor, New York, NY 10004-1789.

MLA ANNUAL CONVENTION

The Annual Convention of the Modern Language Association will be held in New York, 27–30 December 2002. The Job Information Center will be located in the Lyceum Complex, Fifth floor, Marriott, for both English and foreign languages. Job candidates, departmental administrators, and representatives who wish to use the facilities of the Job Information Center must be registered for the convention. The following services will be provided:

- (1) Interviewer's Sign-In Desk for Departments. Departmental administrators or representatives who plan to hold job interviews during the convention, whether in their own hotel rooms or in the Interview Area of the Job Information Center, should sign in (name, institution, hotel, and room number) at the Job Information Center, so that candidates with whom they have set up interviews will be able to locate them. Although an interviewer's name may appear in "Who's Where," for security reasons hotel switchboards will not give out guests' room numbers—and are in any case extremely busy. A brief stop at the sign-in desk by a thoughtful interviewer can save much confusion and worry for candidates. The sign-in desk will be open from 11:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m. on 27 December, from 9:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m. on 28 December, from 9:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. on 29 December, and from 9:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon on 30 December. There will be no telephone interview location service.
- (2) Counseling Service. The Job Information Center counseling service affords job seekers the opportunity to discuss individual employment problems with experienced department administrators. While counselors cannot help candidates obtain interviews, they can and will offer objective, concrete advice on such matters as the appropriate content and presentation of vitae and letters of application, the kinds of institutions to which candidates might most profitably apply, and realistic approaches to job interviews. Counselors will be on hand at the center to speak with interested candidates from 10:15 a.m. until 5:15 p.m. on 28 and 29 December. Appointments can be arranged through the staff member on duty in the interview area of the job center.
- (3) Interview Area. For the convenience of departmental representatives and candidates, there will be an interview area for English and foreign languages within the Job Information Center. Interviewers who wish to use this area should schedule their own interviews either by letter before the convention or by leaving messages at the message center. Table assignments in the interview area, which will be open from 12:00 noon until 8:00 p.m. on 27 December, from 9:00 a.m. until 8:00 p.m. on 28 December, from 9:00 a.m. until 6:00 p.m. on 29 December, and from 9:00 a.m. until 12:00 noon on 30 December, will be given to departmental representatives on a first-come, first-served basis. MLA staff members will be on duty in the area to assist interviewers and candidates.
- (4) Vacancy Notices. A list of job openings received too late to be included in the December Job Information List will be posted on bulletin boards in the Job Information Center. Departmental representatives who have last-minute vacancies should submit detailed descriptions of these to an MLA staff member in the center, who will see that they are posted on the boards. Such notices may also appear in the February Job Information List so that candidates who do not attend the convention will have an opportunity to apply.
- (5) Message Center. Open from 12:00 noon until 8:00 p.m. on 27 December, from 9:00 a.m. until 8:00 p.m. on 28 December, from 9:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. on 29 December, and from 9:00 a.m. until 11:30 a.m. on 30 December, the message center will help candidates and interviewers who have corresponded before the convention to establish specific interview times and places. The message center will not be useful to those who leave messages at random for persons who may not even be in attendance at the convention. Such messages are not picked up, and they serve only to defeat the purpose of the center.

While every effort will be made to assist candidates and interviewers in the Job Information Center, it should be noted that the MLA does not have the facilities for introducing candidates and interviewers who have not corresponded prior to the convention.

THERE IS VERY LITTLE OPEN INTERVIEWING AT THE CONVENTION. JOB CANDIDATES WHO DO NOT HAVE PREARRANGED INTERVIEWS SHOULD NOT PLAN TO ATTEND FOR THE SOLE PURPOSE OF SEEKING EMPLOYMENT.

Meetings of Interest to Job Candidates and Interviewers at the MLA Convention

LIST OF ADMINISTRATIONS CENSURED

BY THE AMERICAN ASSOCIATION OF UNIVERSITY PROFESSORS

Note: The following list and accompanying explanatory note are reprinted from Academe by permission of the American Association of University Professors and in accordance with the action of the MLA Delegate Assembly.

Investigations by the American Association of University Professors of the administrations of the institutions listed below show that, as evidenced by a past violation, they are not observing the generally recognized principles of academic freedom and tenure endorsed by this Association, the Association of American Colleges and Universities, and more than 150 other professional and educational organizations. The 1940 Statement of Principles on Academic Freedom and Tenure may be found in the May-June 1990 issue of Academe.

This list is published for the purpose of informing Association members, the profession at large, and the public that unsatisfactory conditions of academic freedom and tenure have been found to prevail at these institutions. Names are placed on or removed from this censure list by vote of the Association's Annual Meeting.

Placing the name of an institution on this list does not mean that censure is visited either upon the whole of the institution or upon the faculty, but specifically upon its present administration. The term "administration" includes the administrative officers and the governing board of the institution. This censure does not affect the eligibility of nonmembers for membership in the Association, nor does it affect the individual rights of members at the institution in question.

Members of the Association have often considered it to be their duty, in order to indicate their support of the principles violated, to refrain from accepting appointment to an institution so long as it remains on the censure list. Since circumstances differ widely from case to case, the Association does not assert that such an unqualified obligation exists for its members; it does urge that, before accepting appointments, they seek information on present conditions of academic freedom and tenure from the Association's Washington office and prospective departmental colleagues. The Association leaves it to the discretion of the individual, possessed of the facts, to make the proper decision.

The censured administrations, with dates of censuring, are listed below. Reports were published as indicated by the Bulletin or Academe citations in parentheses following each listing. Reference should also be made to "Developments Relating to Censure by the Association" and to the "Report of Committee A," each of which appears annually in Academe.

Tenure/Tenure-Track Position in Rhetoric and Composition

Arizona State University West, a campus of Arizona State University, seeks to make an appointment of a tenure/tenure-track assistant professor position in rhetoric and composition to begin August 2003. Teaching duties will include first-year college composition and upper-division rhetoric and composition courses. A Ph.D. in Rhetoric and Composition or related area is required by the time of the appointment as well as experience in teaching composition, and an active research agenda in one or more of the following areas: WAC, literacy, technical writing, ESL, or pedagogy. Experience in the administration of a rhetoric and composition program is desirable. The successful candidate is expected to contribute to the development of upper-division rhetoric or composition courses, provide service to the department, college, campus and community, and maintain a research agenda appropriate to the appointment in an interdisciplinary teaching and research environment. To apply, please send cover letter, curriculum vitae, and names, addresses, and phone numbers of three (3) references by December 2, 2002. Initial contacts will be made at MLA. If not filled, applications will be reviewed on the 1st and 15th of each month or until the search is closed. Submit to: Rhetoric and Composition Search, College of Arts and Sciences, Dr. Akua Duku Anokye, Search Chair, Arizona State University West, PO Box 37100, Phoenix, AZ 85069-7100. General Information: Arizona State University West, a vital component of ASU's multi-campus structure, serves more than 5,000 undergraduate and graduate students at its modern, growing campus in Phoenix, one of the country's most dynamic multi-cultural and economic environments. ASU West is an urban, commuter campus with a focus on learner-centered education. The University is committed to a balance of research and teaching, faculty-student research collaboration, interdisciplinary perspectives, and the development of University-community partnerships. ASU West is dedicated to increasing the diversity of its campus community, and encouraging an environment that offers students knowledge about local, national, and global communities. ASU West is an AA/EO employer in policy and practice.

This position will be located in the department that most closely matches the candidate's academic area of specialization, with a joint responsibility to the home department and the Ethnic Studies program.

NAU is a Doctoral Intensive institution with approximately 20,000 students at the residential campus in Flagstaff and more than 20 statewide sites. NAU has a strong commitment to technology-mediated delivery of educational programs. Flagstaff is a culturally rich community of 58,000 in the mountains of northern Arizona with a four-season climate and numerous opportunities for year-round outdoor activities.

NAU has a commitment to diversifying its student, staff and faculty population. The total representation of ethnic minorities in the student population, including African Americans, Asian Americans, Hispanics and Native Americans, exceeds 20%. We also have a growing number of international students.

The successful candidate should have an interdisciplinary approach (social sciences and/or humanities) to the study of African Americans in the United States. The candidate should be able to teach courses covering topics such as the African American experience from literary, historical, socio-economic, political or ideological perspectives. Candidates should demonstrate potential for excellence in teaching and evidence of commitment to scholarly activity. Involvement in African American community organizations is desirable. The candidate's Ph.D. should be completed prior to the beginning of the 2003-2004 academic year.

Northern Arizona University is an Equal Opportunity, Affirmative Action employer. Women, minorities, individuals with disabilities and veterans are encouraged to apply. The successful applicant will be committed to working in a student-centered environment with a diverse student and community population.

Please send a letter of interest describing scholarly and teaching expertise and interests, a curriculum vita and the names/telephone numbers/e-mail addresses of three references to: Sara Alemán, Ph.D., Chair, Ethnic Studies Search Committee, Box 4120, Northern Arizona University, Flagstaff, AZ 86011

Review of applications will begin on October 28 and will continue until the position is filled. Position is subject to availability of funds.

Fellow for 2003-04

Saint Mary's College, a Catholic, four-year liberal arts institution for women located approximately 90 miles east of Chicago, has recently established the Center for Women's InterCultural Leadership through support of a Lilly Endowment, Inc. grant. The Center for Women's InterCultural Leadership seeks to increase awareness of the importance of intercultural dialog in today's world; to highlight the leadership roles women have adopted in such dialog; and to foster the next generation of women leaders. In pursuit of these goals, the Center offers a number of fellowships, which are joint appointments with academic departments. All appointments are for one year with the possibility of a renewal for a second year. CWIL Fellows have three general types of responsibilities: 1) research; 2) teaching courses relating to cultural or women's leadership issues; 3) assisting the Center and/or the department in its programmatic and community activities. The relative weight of these activities will vary depending upon the type of fellowship and the needs of the sponsoring department.

The Center seeks qualified individuals to fill the following position for the 2003-2004 academic year:

English: The department is seeking a fellow to teach three courses per year: including Fiction Writing, and/or Creative Non-Fiction; Freshman Composition; and literature courses with a focus on Latina/os within the United States.

Qualified candidates should submit a letter of interest, CV, and three letters of reference to: Center for Women's InterCultural Leadership, #9 Havican Hall, Saint Mary's College, Notre Dame, IN 46556. For full consideration, completed applications should be in by November 29, 2002. Women and minorities are encouraged to apply. EOE

Director, Communication Across the Curriculum Program

Louisiana State University anticipates hiring a director at the rank of Associate or Full Professor to establish a campus-wide communication-across-the-curriculum program that will provide new approaches in the preparation of students and help strengthen and expand LSU's culture of teaching. Responsibilities: develop a pilot communication program for engineering and the physical sciences (known as the Cain Communication Program) initially to be supported by private resources in the amount of $2.5 million over five years. Required Qualifications: administrative experience in curricular communications program development and funding; an established record of teaching excellence; and scholarly achievement sufficient to warrant tenure at LSU. Because this will be a University-wide program with initial piloting in engineering and science, applicants are expected to have the skills to work with people with diverse academic backgrounds and have clear understanding of the cultural differences and similarities between disciplines in writing and communications. Position expected to be filled by Fall 2003. Review of applications begins December 2, 2002, and continues until position is filled. Applicants should provide letter of application, C.V., and list of references. References will not be contacted until the candidate has been notified. Submit applications to William Demastes, Associate Dean, College of Arts and Sciences, Louisiana State University, Ref: log #0355, Baton Rouge, LA 70803.

Kenyon College Dissertation/Teaching Fellowship

<http://www.kenyon.edu>

One of the most significant challenges confronting small liberal arts colleges in the United States today is how to increase the relatively small number of minority faculty teaching at such institutions. Creating a diverse and representative group of teachers benefits students, faculty, and administrators alike, by enriching the nature of the education experience for all. We recognize, though, that young scholars who are members of underrepresented groups frequently choose to pursue their careers as teachers and scholars at research universities rather than at small liberal arts colleges. In order to encourage such scholars to consider college rather than university teaching, Kenyon College offers the Kenyon College Dissertation/Teaching Fellowship for Minority Scholars. The program aims at minority scholars in the final stages of their doctoral work who need only to finish the dissertation to complete requirements for the Ph.D. We hope the experience of living and working for a year at Kenyon will encourage these fellows to consider a liberal arts college as a place to begin their careers as teachers and scholars. In the past, fellowships have been awarded in: African and African American Studies, American Studies, Anthropology, Art History, Biology, English, History, Math, Modern Languages and Literatures(Spanish), Music, Religious Studies and Sociology. Kenyon will provide a stipend of $32,500, plus health benefits, housing, and a small moving allowance. The College will also provide an allowance to cover travel to conferences or for consultation with the dissertation director. Kenyon will assist the Fellow in finding college housing. The Fellow will be provided an office, a networked computer, and secretarial support services. Faculty colleagues at Kenyon recognize and embrace the opportunity to welcome and mentor new faculty members. The Kenyon Fellow is expected to write the dissertation and to teach one course each semester, usually in the Fellow's general research area. Fellows are also expected to offer a College lecture or Departmental seminar on the dissertation topic at some point during the academic year in residence. Kenyon College assumes that the Fellow will participate in the intellectual life of his/her home department, as well as in the broader cultural life of the College. Our primary expectation, however, and the main focus of this fellowship, is the completion of the dissertation. Eligibility to apply for the Kenyon College Dissertation/Teaching Fellowship for Minority Scholars is limited to: Citizens or nationals of the United States at the time of application. Members of the following minority groups: Alaskan Natives (Eskimo or Aleut) Native American Indians Black/African Americans Mexican Americans/Chicano Native Pacific Islanders (Polynesian or Micronesian) Puerto Ricans Individuals who are enrolled in a research-based PhD program in one of the following fields: African and African American, American Studies, Anthropology, Art History, Asian Studies, Biology, Classics, Dance, Drama, Economics, English, Environmental Studies, History, Humanities, International Studies, Math, Modern Languages and Literature, Music, Philosophy, Political Science, Psychology, Religious Studies, Sociology, and Women's and Gender Studies. Individuals who aspire to a teaching and research career. Persons who have not yet earned a doctoral degree at any time and in any field. Please send a letter of application, vita, and three letters of references (including the dissertation advisor) to the Office of the Associate Provost, Kenyon College, Gambier, OH 43022. <http://www.smu.edu/english/>

The Department of English seeks to fill two newly created endowed chairs. Applications from Scholars in all fields of English and American language and literature are welcome. We invite inquiries from applicants who hold the rank of full professor and from outstanding associate professors with a second book nearing completion. The ideal candidates will have a demonstrated commitment to undergraduate and MA-level teaching and an excellent record of research and publication; they should be willing, as well, to contribute actively to a growing department and university. SMU is a non-sectarian private university committed to liberal education. In addition to the Central University Library, SMU is home to several specialized libraries, including the Bridwell Library (<http://www.smu.edu/bridwell/>), a major repository of rare books and manuscripts ranging from early Bibles and theological editions to the modern book arts, and the De Golyer Library (<http://www.smu.edu/cul/degolyer/>), which holds over 100,000 volumes relating to the European discovery and exploration of the American, Western Americana, the Spanish borderlands, and Texana. Dedman College also houses the William P. Clements Center for Southwest Studies (<http://www.smu.edu/swcenter/>). Interested candidates should contact Dennis Foster, chair of the department. This search continues a process begun last year, and we will continue to accept applications until the positions are filled. We will, however, ensure that all applications postmarked by November 1, 2002, receive full review.

Information on our department is available at <http://www.smu.edu/english>. Southern Methodist University does not discriminate in any employment practice, education program, or educational activity on the basis of race, color, religion, national origin, sex, age, disability, or veteran status. The Department of English at SMU seeks a tenure-track assistant professor of American Lit, specializing in either literature of the Early Republic (Encounter to 1840) or literature of the Southwest (period open), beginning fall semester, 2003. The ideal candidates will be comfortable teaching texts from across the American canon in addition to their subject specialty, and they will have a demonstrated commitment to undergraduate teaching as well as excellent potential as a publishing scholar. The Ph.D. from a literature department or an American Studies program must be completed no later than August 15, 2003. For full consideration, applicants must send a CV and a letter outlining teaching and research interests to Professor Steven Daniels (attn.: Search Committee) at the address above, postmarked no later than October 30, 2002, but the committee will continue to accept applications until the position is filled. Send no writing sample at this time. We shall be interviewing at MLA and prior to that time shall inform applicants of the status of their candidacy. SMU is a non-sectarian private university committed to liberal education. The William P. Clements Center For Southwest Studies (<http://www.smu.edu/swcenter/>) offers the opportunity for broadly interdisciplinary work. Southern Methodist University does not discriminate in any employment practice, education program, or educational activity on the basis of race, color, religion, national origin, sex, age, disability, or veteran status. The Department of English at Marquette University invites applications for the Arnold L Mitchem Dissertation Fellowship Program. Mitchem Fellowships seek to help increase the presence of currently underrepresented racial and cultural groups in the U.S. professoriate by supporting advanced doctoral candidates during completion of the dissertation. The fellowships provide one year of support for doctoral candidates well into the writing stage of their dissertation work who are U.S. citizens currently enrolled in U.S. universities. Fellows spend the academic year in residence at Marquette University, during which they teach one course in their area of specialization, interact with faculty mentors and undergraduate students, and devote their primary energies to completing and preparing to defend their dissertations. In addition to library, office and clerical support privileges, Mitchem Fellows receive financial support (stipend, fringe benefits, housing, and research and travel monies) totaling approximately $36,000 for the 2003-04 academic year. Application dossiers are to include a completed application form, a full curriculum vitae, graduate transcripts, a copy of the dissertation prospectus limited to 10 pages, three letters of recommendation (including one from the dissertation advisor), and a description of teaching interests. <http://www.english.ucalgary.ca>

The University of Calgary, Department of English, invites applications for a tenure-track position at the rank of assistant professor, effective 1 July 2003. We are seeking candidates with a completed or nearly-completed PhD, a strong publication record, intellectual breadth and flexibility, and expertise in performance studies and new media studies. We are particularly interested in candidates who combine expertise in drama and performance with one or more of the following areas: film, television, video, digital media. The selected candidate will be expected to teach first-year English courses and undergraduate dramatic literature courses in addition to graduate courses and senior seminars in performance studies and new media studies. English Department members also have the opportunity to teach in the University's emerging film program. The Department of English at Calgary is one of the most dynamic research and teaching departments in Canada, with thriving MA and PhD programs and a strong undergraduate program. We encourage applications from all qualified women and men, including members of visible minorities, Aboriginal peoples, and persons with disabilities. For more information about the Department, see our home page: <http://www.english.ucalgary.ca> Applicants should send a curriculum vitae, a sample publication or a writing sample of no more than 10 pages, and evidence of teaching effectiveness, and arrange to have three confidential letters of reference forwarded directly to: Murray McGillivray, Chair, Department of English, University of Calgary, 2500 University Dr. N.W., Calgary, Alberta Canada, T2N 1N4 Only applicants whose dossiers are complete by December 16, 2002 will be considered. Please indicate in your letter of application if you will be attending the MLA convention in New York and could be available there for a preliminary meeting. Assistant Professor, Creative Writing

<http://www.english.ucalgary.ca>

The University of Calgary, Department of English, invites applications for a tenure-track position in Creative Writing at the rank of assistant professor, effective July 1st, 2003.

We are seeking a writer who has a demonstrated and ongoing commitment to the craft of writing, a strong record of creative publication in book form or equivalent, and a deep interest in all levels of teaching as well as in graduate supervision. We are looking for a writer who is actively engaged with pedagogical issues and with the critical thinking surrounding literary texts. While a PhD is not a requirement of the position, a graduate degree in Creative Writing (MA, MFA, or PhD) would be an advantage.

Creative Writing has been designated as an "outstanding area of research strength" within the department and the University. Given this area of excellence, we are looking for an outstanding candidate who will contribute to our current curriculum and advance the discipline in new directions. We are particularly interested in candidates who are experienced and successful teachers of creative writing (fiction or poetry) at the post-secondary level, and who would also bring expertise in one or more additional areas: creative non-fiction, editing and/or publishing, performance, or literary translation.

The English Department encourages applications from all qualified women and men, including members of visible minorities, Aboriginal peoples, and persons with disabilities.

The Department of English at Calgary is one of the most dynamic research and teaching departments in Canada, with thriving MA and PhD programmes and a strong undergraduate programme. We offer the only PhD with a creative thesis option in English Canada, an MA with a creative thesis option, and a Creative Writing Concentration for undergraduate English students. The Department is home to the creative journal dANDelion and hosts the prestigious endowed Markin-Flanagan Distinguished Writers Programme, which comprises an annual residency by a Canadian writer and extended visits by distinguished international writers. For more information about the department, dANDelion, and the Markin-Flanagan Programme, see our home page: <http://www.english.ucalgary.ca/>

Applicants should send a curriculum vitae and sample publications, and should arrange to have three confidential letters of reference forwarded directly to: Murray McGillivray, Head, Department of English, University of Calgary, 2500 University Dr. N.W., Calgary, Alberta Canada, T2N 1N4

Only applicants whose dossiers are complete by November 30, 2002 will be considered. Please indicate in your letter of application if you will be attending the MLA convention in New York and could be available there for a preliminary meeting.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority.

The University of Calgary respects, appreciates and encourages diversity. [R]

The UCLA Mellon Sawyer Seminar on "The Ethics of the Neighbor" will appoint one postdoctoral fellow for the 2003-2004 academic year. Applicants must have their doctorates in hand by Sept. 1, 2003. The Fellowship provides a stipend of $38,000.00. All Fellows are required to be in residence and to participate in the seminar (which meets once or twice a month), its conference, and related activities. No teaching duties are required of the Fellows. Neither brother nor stranger, friend nor enemy, the neighbor is that particular other who marks the ambiguous realm between family and polis, hence serves as a touchstone for an ethics not fully determined by the obligations of kinship or state. The Mellon Sawyer Seminar on "The Ethics of the Neighbor" will investigate the histories, theories, and fantasies that revolve around the figure of the neighbor, beginning with the biblical texts and post-biblical commentaries that are its origin and moving into its mutations in modernity. Our methodology will be interdisciplinary, including religious studies, history, literature and literary theory, law, philosophy, political theory, linguistics, psychoanalysis, and government. In a time when the bankruptcy of the universal ethics of the Enlightenment, the republican ideals of liberty, equality, and fraternity, and the revolutionary goals of communitarianism are taken as a commonplace, it is precisely in the negative space of such common ground that advocates of the possibility of community after Community come to meet. The concept of the neighbor that arises from the biblical injunction to "love thy neighbor as thyself" (Lev. 19:18) has generated a vast history of commentary in Judaism, Christianity, and Islam. Yet if an ethics of the neighbor takes on its urgency originally in religious discourses, it does not remain exclusive to those discourses for long, and soon passes into secular traditions of social thought and practice, including philosophy (e.g., Kierkegaard, Nietzsche, Rosenzweig, Levinas), political theory (e.g., Adorno, Arendt), psychoanalysis (e.g., Freud, Lacan), and a variety of forms of popular culture (fiction, film, and television). Moreover, the figure of "the neighbor" has become central to contemporary sites of political, social, and religious conflict such as the Middle East, the Balkans, East and South Africa, Northern Ireland, and Los Angeles itself. Hence the Mellon Sawyer Seminar will examine the implications of the ethics of the neighbor for various parts of the world we see unfolding around us today. There is no application form. Applicants should send a cover letter, a description (no more than 1500 words) of a scholarly project relevant to the seminar's topic, a CV, and three letters of recommendation by February 1st, 2003, to: Mellon Sawyer Postdoctoral Fellowship, Center for Jewish Studies, 302 Royce Hall, UCLA, Los Angeles, CA 90095-1485. We invite applications from recent Ph.D.s specializing in Caribbean literature from a comparative, multilingual perspective. Candidates should be fluent in at least one of the region's languages (besides English) or creoles. The two-year residential fellowship provides an annual stipend of $37,500 and offers an excellent opportunity for research and for intellectually stimulating interaction with colleagues and students. The Mellon Fellow will teach two courses of his or her own devising each year with opportunities at both the graduate and undergraduate levels. Applicants must have received their Ph.D. during the five years prior to their appointment in the fall of 2003; current tenure-track assistant professors are not eligible. Please send letter of application, CV, dissertation summary, writing sample, and dossier with letters of recommendation by February 1, 2003. The University of Chicago is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity employer. Job Clinic at New York Convention

A Job Clinic for MLA members interested in employment outside the academy will be held at the 2002 convention in New York City. The Clinic will again be conducted by Howard Figler, career consultant, author ("The Complete Job Search Handbook"), and former director of the career center at the University of Texas at Austin. The eighteen previous clinics have been enthusiastically received by participants. The clinic will assist in learning about career options and marketable skills, preparing effective resumes, locating jobs, and improving interviewing and negotiation skills. It will consist of five sessions that begin at 4:00 p.m. on 26 December (one day before the formal opening of the convention) and conclude at noon on 28 December. There should be minimal conflict with other convention sessions. The cost is $215 in addition to the convention registration fee; enrollment is limited. To receive further particulars, write or e-mail (rchustek@mla.org) with your name and complete mailing address to the MLA Job Information Service.
