SUBSCRIPTION INFORMATION

The print version of the Job Information List is published four times during the academic year—in October, December, February, and April. Listings are solicited from two- and four-year colleges and universities for all issues. The cost of an online-only subscription is $38. The cost of a print-only subscription is $50 in the United States and Canada and $70 elsewhere. The cost of a subscription to both online and print versions is $70 in the United States and Canada and $90 elsewhere. The List is sent by first-class mail to subscribers in the United States and Canada and by airmail to all other areas; delivery should be shortly after the publication dates listed below. Please note, however, that these are projected dates only and are subject to change without notice. A subscription form is available at www.mla.org.

October issue	17 October 2003
December issue	14 November 2003
February issue	13 February 2004
April issue	15 April 2004

Further inquiries should be directed to Roy Chustek, Editor, Job Information List, MLA, 26 Broadway, 3rd floor, New York, NY 10004 (646 576-5133; rchustek@mla.org).

ACCESSING THE ELECTRONIC JIL

An online version of the Job Information List is available for searching by individuals who have subscribed to the electronic JIL as well as by job seekers in ADE- and ADFL-member departments. A user name and password are required to search the database. To find your user name and password, follow these directions:

If you are an individual subscriber: If you already have a user name and password, use them. If you do not, you may retrieve them online at the MLA Web site (www.mla.org). Follow the link to the JIL page and click on the appropriate "Search" button; when the password prompt appears, scroll down and enter your e-mail address in the appropriate box and click "E-mail me." Your user name and password will be sent to the e-mail address that you specified when you subscribed. You have the option to change your user name and password whenever you choose by logging in at the JIL page and then clicking the "Subscriber Information" button at the top of the search form and following the instructions for changing your user name and password.

If you are a job seeker in an ADE- or ADFL-member department: Graduate students and faculty members in departments that are current paid members of ADE or ADFL have access to the online JIL as a benefit of their department's ADE or ADFL membership. You must access the JIL through the ADE or ADFL home pages (www.adefl.org; www.adfl.org). Information on how to access the online JIL on this basis is available from your department chair.

INFORMATION FOR CANDIDATES

In This Issue

The December issue contains notices describing approximately 330 definite and possible positions. Readers should note that departments are not encouraged to repeat listings that have appeared in the October issue. If a notice published in the October JIL does not reappear in this issue, readers should not assume that the position is no longer available. The only reliable guide to application is to check the deadline reported in the original notice or a current announcement in this List.

Guide for Using the Job Information List

US and Canadian Departments

The main body of the List, arranged in alphabetical order by state, contains information on definite or possible vacancies and notices from departments that expect no vacancies but would nevertheless like to keep résumés on file.

Read through this section item by item to see which departments would welcome your letter of application or inquiry at this time. Send letters only to departments expressing an interest in a person with your qualifications. If a notice states that no vacancies are expected but that the department would like to maintain a file of prospective candidates, you must decide in each case whether it is worthwhile to write.

Comparative Literature and Linguistics and ESL Sections

Notices in these fields have been separated out from the main body of the issue and placed under the appropriate heading.

General Advice for Candidates

Be sure that your dossier (transcript, letters of recommendation, and other material) is ready to be sent out by your placement bureau to any department that requests it. Prepare and duplicate a one-page vita sheet to enclose with any letters of application or inquiry. In your letter of application, it is probably wise to express a willingness to be interviewed at the department's convenience. Professional meetings provide a convenient opportunity for such interviews (see MLA convention information on p. iii).

While it is important to begin to search for a position immediately, you should be aware that hiring goes on all year. Surveys indicate that only about half of all English and foreign language departments have begun recruiting by the end of December and that the majority of departments do not complete the recruiting process until spring, in some cases until summer.

Bear in mind that the candidate who has not limited his or her search for a new position to a particular geographical area or kind of institution is most likely to find a position. Do not discount the small colleges where one often has the opportunity to teach a wide selection of courses to students of varied backgrounds.

Notice on Tenure Policies

The Modern Language Association recommends that department administrators and their representatives inform candidates before or during the interview about prospects for tenure in the specific position under consideration and about the tenure policies and practices in their departments and institutions. If the information is not offered, candidates are urged to inquire about these policies.

Acknowledgment of Applications

Acting on a recommendation from the MLA Delegate Assembly, the MLA Executive Council has adopted a policy calling for departments to acknowledge all applications for announced positions either by letter or by self-addressed postcards provided by applicants.

MLA Policy on the Reimbursement of Job Seekers

The following policies were recommended by the Delegate Assembly in December 1999 and approved by the MLA Executive Council in February 2000.

It is MLA policy that:

- Departments that require that job applicants send their application materials by express carrier reimburse those applicants for the cost of such shipment; and
- Departments that require multiple copies of writing samples and other application materials from job applicants reimburse applicants for the cost of duplicating their writing samples and other materials; and
- Departments that require books will return them to the applicant; and
- Departments that invite job applicants for on-campus interviews reimburse those applicants who accept such invitations for the costs of travel and accommodations incurred when visiting the campus for interviews.

MLA Guide to the Job Search

The MLA Guide to the Job Search (New York: MLA, 1997) contains much useful information and advice to assist candidates in organizing their job searches confidently and competently. Copies of the Guide are available to JIL subscribers for $5.00 and no shipping and handling charge. The regular price of the Guide is $10.00 ($8.00 for MLA members), plus $3.00 for shipping and handling. To order a copy, write, enclosing a check, to MLA Member and Customer Services, 26 Broadway, 3rd floor, New York, NY 10004-1789.

MLA ANNUAL CONVENTION

The Annual Convention of the Modern Language Association will be held in San Diego, 27–30 December 2003. The Job Information Center will be located in the Marriott Hall 1 and 2, lobby level, San Diego Marriott Hotel and Marina, for both English and foreign languages. Job candidates, departmental administrators, and representatives who wish to use the facilities of the Job Information Center must be registered for the convention. The following services will be provided:

- (1) Interviewer's Sign-In Desk for Departments. Departmental administrators or representatives who plan to hold job interviews during the convention, whether in their own hotel rooms or in the Interview Area of the Job Information Center, should sign in (name, institution, hotel, and room number) at the Job Information Center, so that candidates with whom they have set up interviews will be able to locate them. Although an interviewer's name may appear in "Who's Where," for security reasons hotel switchboards will not give out guests' room numbers—and are in any case extremely busy. A brief stop at the sign-in desk by a thoughtful interviewer can save much confusion and worry for candidates. The sign-in desk will be open from 11:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m. on 27 December, from 9:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m. on 28 December, from 9:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. on 29 December, and from 9:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon on 30 December. There will be no telephone interview location service.
- (2) Counseling Service. The Job Information Center counseling service affords job seekers the opportunity to discuss individual employment problems with experienced department administrators. Although counselors cannot help candidates obtain interviews, they can and will offer objective, concrete advice on such matters as the appropriate content and presentation of vitae and letters of application, the kinds of institutions to which candidates might most profitably apply, and realistic approaches to job interviews. Counselors will be on hand at the center to speak with interested candidates from 10:15 a.m. until 5:15 p.m. on 28 and 29 December. Appointments can be arranged through the staff member on duty in the interview area of the job center.
- (3) Interview Area. For the convenience of departmental representatives and candidates, there will be an interview area for English and foreign languages within the Job Information Center. Interviewers who wish to use this area should schedule their own interviews either by letter before the convention or by leaving messages at the message center. Table assignments in the interview area, which will be open from 12:00 noon until 8:00 p.m. on 27 December, from 9:00 a.m. until 8:00 p.m. on 28 December, from 9:00 a.m. until 6:00 p.m. on 29 December, and from 9:00 a.m. until 12:00 noon on 30 December, will be given to departmental representatives on a first-come, first-served basis. MLA staff members will be on duty in the area to assist interviewers and candidates.
- (4) Vacancy Notices. A list of job openings received too late to be included in the December Job Information List will be posted on bulletin boards in the Job Information Center. Departmental representatives who have last-minute vacancies should submit detailed descriptions of these to an MLA staff member in the center, who will see that they are posted on the boards. Such notices may also appear in the February Job Information List so that candidates who do not attend the convention will have an opportunity to apply.
- (5) Message Center. Open from 12:00 noon until 8:00 p.m. on 27 December, from 9:00 a.m. until 8:00 p.m. on 28 December, from 9:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. on 29 December, and from 9:00 a.m. until 11:30 a.m. on 30 December, the message center will help candidates and interviewers who have corresponded before the convention establish specific interview times and places. The message center will not be useful to those who leave messages at random for persons who may not even be in attendance at the convention. Such messages are not picked up, and they serve only to defeat the purpose of the center.

Although every effort will be made to assist candidates and interviewers in the Job Information Center, it should be noted that the MLA does not have the facilities for introducing candidates and interviewers who have not corresponded before the convention.

THERE IS VERY LITTLE OPEN INTERVIEWING AT THE CONVENTION. JOB CANDIDATES WHO DO NOT HAVE PREARRANGED INTERVIEWS SHOULD NOT PLAN TO ATTEND FOR THE SOLE PURPOSE OF SEEKING EMPLOYMENT.

Meetings of Interest to Job Candidates and Interviewers at the MLA Convention

LIST OF ADMINISTRATIONS CENSURED

BY THE AMERICAN ASSOCIATION OF UNIVERSITY PROFESSORS

Note: The following list and accompanying explanatory note are reprinted from Academe by permission of the American Association of University Professors and in accordance with the action of the MLA Delegate Assembly.

Investigations by the American Association of University Professors of the administrations of the institutions listed below show that, as evidenced by a past violation, they are not observing the generally recognized principles of academic freedom and tenure endorsed by this Association, the Association of American Colleges and Universities, and more than 150 other professional and educational organizations. The 1940 Statement of Principles on Academic Freedom and Tenure may be found in the May-June 1990 issue of Academe.

This list is published for the purpose of informing Association members, the profession at large, and the public that unsatisfactory conditions of academic freedom and tenure have been found to prevail at these institutions. Names are placed on or removed from this censure list by vote of the Association's Annual Meeting.

Placing the name of an institution on this list does not mean that censure is visited either upon the whole of the institution or upon the faculty, but specifically upon its present administration. The term "administration" includes the administrative officers and the governing board of the institution. This censure does not affect the eligibility of nonmembers for membership in the Association, nor does it affect the individual rights of members at the institution in question.

Members of the Association have often considered it to be their duty, in order to indicate their support of the principles violated, to refrain from accepting appointment to an institution so long as it remains on the censure list. Since circumstances differ widely from case to case, the Association does not assert that such an unqualified obligation exists for its members; it does urge that, before accepting appointments, they seek information on present conditions of academic freedom and tenure from the Association's Washington office and prospective departmental colleagues. The Association leaves it to the discretion of the individual, possessed of the facts, to make the proper decision.

The censured administrations, with dates of censuring, are listed below. Reports were published as indicated by the Bulletin or Academe citations in parentheses following each listing. Reference should also be made to "Developments Relating to Censure by the Association" and to the "Report of Committee A," each of which appears annually in Academe.

Lecturer 1278

Stanford University seeks a number of highly qualified lecturers to develop and teach intensive first and second-year writing courses in its Program in Writing and Rhetoric (PWR), a program in the Department of English and the Office of the Vice Provost for Undergraduate Education.

PWR offers approximately 180 courses a year, taught seminar/workshop style in classes of 15 students each. Individual classes explore writing, rhetoric, and research from a range of perspectives. The new requirement includes increased attention to the interweaving of writing and technology and to the study and development of oral and multimedia texts.

Lecturers will be responsible for developing syllabi for their sections in accord with course and assignment guidelines developed by PWR. Additional responsibilities of lecturers in PWR include mentoring of graduate student instructors, service on program committees, and work in the Stanford Writing Center. Further information about the program can be found at <http://pwr.stanford.edu>.

Qualifications: Candidates should hold an advanced degree in English (Ph.D. preferred) or a related field and have demonstrated excellence and strong interests in the teaching of writing; candidates with graduate training in other fields will be considered if they have particular interests in the teaching of writing and the field of rhetoric and composition.

Initial appointments of lecturers will be made for a term of at least one year to a maximum of three years beginning in the 2004-2005 academic year, with a start date of September 1, 2004. The appointment may be renewable contingent on satisfactory performance and programmatic need. Salary will be in the range of $52,000 to $57,000.

Please send a letter of application (outlining your experience and interests in the teaching of writing and the field of rhetoric and composition), curriculum vitae, three letters of reference, and teaching portfolio including teaching philosophy statement, syllabi for writing courses, assignments, and evaluations by November 18, 2003 to Professor Andrea Lunsford, Director, Program in Writing and Rhetoric, Bldg. 460, Rm. 223, Stanford University, Stanford CA 94305-2085.

Stanford University has a strong institutional commitment to the principle of diversity. We welcome applications from all people, including women, members of ethnic minorities, and disabled individuals.

Director of the Center for Jewish Studies

<http://web.jst.ufl.edu/>

The University of Florida invites nominations and applications for the Director of the Center for Jewish Studies. The position calls for a distinguished senior scholar to direct a flourishing, multidisciplinary, nationally recognized program as it expands its programs and activities. The Director will provide intellectual and administrative leadership in the Center's undergraduate and graduate degree programs, curriculum development, state and local community outreach, and the organization of the Center's annual lecture series. Building on the recent increase in the number of Jewish Studies faculty, and growing interest among students, the Director will be expected to pay particular attention to the enhancement of the graduate program. The Director will also be responsible for managing and increasing the Center's endowment. The appointment will be made at the full professor rank. Outstanding candidates at the associate level may also be considered. Academic discipline is open. Salary is competitive. UF's Center for Jewish Studies features twenty-five affiliate faculty and course offerings spanning several academic departments. The Price Judaica Library has an outstanding 70,000-volume collection without equal in the southeastern United States. The Center is supported by a base of eighteen private endowment funds, and a firm institutional commitment on the part of Florida's flagship university to advance the Center's programs. The Center's international ties extend to universities throughout Europe and Israel. The University of Florida occupies a beautiful 2,000-acre, tree-lined campus located within the city of Gainesville, a diverse and progressive community of 100,000 people in North Central Florida. It is a member of the Association of American Universities, and the oldest and largest of Florida's 10 public universities. With an enrollment of 48,000 students, UF is one of the most comprehensive universities in the United States, encompassing virtually all academic and professional disciplines, including several nationally renowned medical centers. Gainesville is also home to thriving museums and cultural centers, among them the Samuel P. Harn Museum of Art and the Phillips Center for the Performing Arts. Nominations and applications should be received by January 10, 2004, at the following address: James R. Mueller, Associate Dean for Administrative Affairs, College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, 2014 Turlington Hall, University of Florida, Gainesville, FL 32611. Applications should include a letter of intent, CV, and the names and addresses of three referees. The University of Florida is an EEO/AA/ADA employer.

Desired qualifications include experience in academic administration, teaching and research. This will be a joint appointment with tenure in a department in the College of Arts and Sciences and the African and Afro-American Studies Program at the full professor level. We are looking for a person with a considerable record of publication and a strong commitment to African and African American studies.

The African and Afro-American Studies Program at Washington University offers a wide variety of survey and advanced courses in history, literature, languages, education, music, and the social sciences. Moreover, the St. Louis area, with its large black communities on either side of the Mississippi River, offers any African American scholar numerous institutional and cultural resources for his or her life and work. Candidates must hold a doctorate in a related field of study. Applications should include a letter of interest, three letters of reference, and a vita. Consideration of applicants will begin on December 15, 2003 and will continue until the position is filled. Washington University is an Equal Opportunity Employer. Employment eligibility verification required upon hire. Women and members of minority groups encouraged to apply.

RHODE ISLAND

Brown U

Office of the Provost, Box 1862 Providence RI 02912

Director, Humanities Research Center

<http://www.brown.edu>

Brown University seeks a distinguished scholar with multi-disciplinary interests in the humanities to serve as Director of the Humanities Research Center (HRC). The goal of the center is to forge intellectual connections among scholars throughout the university to address the questions that have so insistently confronted the humanities in recent years. With the accelerated speed of social and cultural change, the mechanisms and effects of globalization, and new technologies for intervening in the operation of the human body and mind, a whole new spectrum of historical and cultural approaches are required. Building on established research strengths throughout the humanities at Brown, as well as the work of the Pembroke Center for Teaching and Research on Women and the Watson Institute for International Studies, the HRC will bring together scholars from Brown, visiting fellows from around the world, and post-doctoral fellows in research seminars and working groups. The HRC will build on these collaborative projects to open new areas of research in the humanities. The Director will report directly to the Provost and will receive the resources to build the international and public dimensions of the HRC, while lending his/her vision to the research seminar and faculty working groups it sponsors each year. S/he will be responsible for a calendar of events that will enrich intellectual life at Brown and contribute to the greater Providence community. S/he will oversee the selection of faculty and post-doctoral fellows each year. S/he will develop further components of the Center within the parameters of a coherent vision that will give the HRC at Brown a distinctive intellectual identity in this country and throughout the world. <http://oncampus.richmond.edu/~english/>

The Department of English at this highly selective, private, primarily undergraduate university invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor position in American literature 1880-1945. Excellence in both teaching and research is required. Teaching responsibilities include American literature, American Studies, and general education. We are interested in hiring a scholar whose range of ex-expertise extends beyond the traditional canon of American literature 1880-1945. Related areas of expertise that would significantly enhance the department's current offerings might include the early history of film, Asian-American literature, Latino/a literature, or African-American literature, and so on. Ideally, candidates will demonstrate the expertise necessary to teach American literature in a transnational perspective. The successful candidate will be expected to maintain a strong research program in an area of expertise. Applicants should submit a curriculum vitae, an abstract of the doctoral dissertation, copies of any publications to date, copies of graduate transcripts, separate statements of (1) teaching and 2) research interests and agenda, and have three letters of reference sent to Dr. Raymond F. Hilliard, Chair, Department of English, University of Richmond, Richmond, VA 23173. Review of applications will begin Nov. 1, 2003, with an anticipated starting date of August 2004. The University of Richmond is committed to increasing the diversity of its faculty and strongly encourages applications from women and minorities. Kenyon College Dissertation/Teaching Fellowship for Minority Scholars

<http://www.kenyon.edu>

The Kenyon College Dissertation/Teaching Fellowship for Minority Scholars is for scholars in the final stages of their doctoral work who need only to finish the dissertation to complete requirements for the Ph.D. We hope the experience of living and working for a year at Kenyon will encourage these fellows to consider a liberal arts college as a place to begin their careers as teachers and scholars. Kenyon will provide a stipend of $32,500, plus health benefits, housing, and a small moving allowance. The College will also provide an allowance to cover travel to conferences or for consultation with the dissertation director. Kenyon will assist the Fellow in finding college housing. The Fellow will be provided an office, a networked computer, and secretarial support services. Faculty colleagues at Kenyon recognize and embrace the opportunity to welcome and mentor new faculty members. The Kenyon Fellow is expected to write the dissertation and to teach one course each semester, usually in the Fellow's general research area. Fellows are also expected to offer a College lecture or Departmental seminar on the dissertation topic at some point during the academic year in residence. Kenyon College assumes that the Fellow will participate in the intellectual life of his/her home department, as well as in the broader cultural life of the College. Our primary expectation, however, and the main focus of this fellowship, is the completion of the dissertation. Job Clinic at the San Diego Convention

A Job Clinic for MLA members interested in employment outside the academy will be held at the 2003 convention in San Diego. The Clinic will again be conducted by Howard Figler, career consultant, author ("The Complete Job Search Handbook"), and former director of the career center at the University of Texas at Austin. The nineteen previous clinics have been enthusiastically received by participants.

The first job clinic was held at the 1984 convention. One participant praised a previous clinic for being "very well organized, reasonably priced." Another observed, "I feel that I now have a concrete picture of available opportunities and practical approaches to the job search. Dr. Figler really helped build my confidence and change my frame of mind to a more positive attitude. I especially appreciated that Dr. Figler's own background and the slant given to the seminar were pertinent to my own specific situation as an academic in transition." The clinic will assist in learning about career options and marketable skills, preparing effective resumes, locating jobs, and improving interviewing and negotiation skills. It will consist of five sessions that begin at 4:00 p.m. on 26 December (one day before the formal opening of the convention) and conclude at noon on 28 December. There should be minimal conflict with other convention sessions. The cost is $215 in addition to the convention registration fee; enrollment is limited. To receive further particulars, write or e-mail (rchustek@mla.org) with your name and complete mailing address to the MLA Job Information Service.
