ACCESSING THE ELECTRONIC JIL

An online version of the Job Information List is now available for searching by JIL subscribers as well as by job seekers in ADE- and ADFL-member departments. A user name and password are required to search the database. To find your user name and password, follow these directions:

If you are an individual subscriber: If you already have a user name and password, use them. If you do not, locate the address label on the back cover of your Job Information List. Your current online user name is the number located in the upper right-hand side of the address label. Your password is your zip code or the first five letters of your country (capitalized) if you live outside the United States. This user name and password will give you initial access to the electronic JIL. The online JIL can be found at the MLA's World Wide Web site (www.mla.org); follow the Job Information link to the JIL page, where you will find information on how to search the JIL. You have the option to change your user name and password whenever you choose by going to the JIL page, clicking on either of the "Search" buttons, giving your current user name and password at the prompt, and then clicking the "Subscriber Information" button at the top of the search form and following the instructions for changing your user name and password.

If you are a job seeker in an ADE- or ADFL-member department: Graduate students and faculty members in departments that are current paid members of ADE or ADFL have access to the online JIL as a benefit of their department's ADE or ADFL membership. You must access the JIL through the ADE or ADFL home pages (www.ade.org; www.adfl.org). Information on how to access the online JIL on this basis is available from your department chair.

SUBSCRIPTION INFORMATION

The Job Information List is published four times during the academic year—in October, December, February, and April. Listings are solicited from two- and four-year colleges and universities for all issues. The cost of a subscription is $30.00 in the United States and Canada and $42.00 elsewhere. The List is sent by first-class mail to subscribers in the United States and Canada and by airmail to all other areas; delivery should be shortly after the publication dates listed below. Please note, however, that these are projected dates only and are subject to change without notice.

October issue	16 October 1998
December issue	13 November 1998
February issue	14 February 1999
April issue	15 April 1999

Further inquiries should be directed to Roy Chustek, Editor, Job Information List, MLA, 10 Astor Place, New York, NY 10003 (212 614-6321; roy.chustek@mla.org).

INFORMATION FOR CANDIDATES

The February issue contains descriptions of approximately 170 definite and possible vacancies. The listings are broken down by language as follows: French, 15 definite; Spanish, 73 definite, 2 possible; German, 8 definite; Italian, 7 definite; Slavic, 2 definite; Romance Languages, 3 definite; multiple language fields, 16 definite; and linguistics, Middle Eastern and Asian languages, comparative literature, and other language fields, 46 definite.

Guide for Using the Job Information List

The main body of the List, arranged in alphabetical order by language, contains information on definite or possible vacancies, comments on notices published in past issues (e.g., that a previously announced position has been filled), and notices from departments that expect no vacancies but would nevertheless like to keep résumés on file.

Read through this section item by item to see which departments would welcome your letter of application or inquiry at this time. Send letters only to departments expressing an interest in a person with your qualifications. If a notice states that no vacancies are expected but that the department would like to maintain a file of prospective candidates, you must decide in each case whether it is worthwhile to write.

Multiple Language Listings

Notices in which the language field is open, or for two or more positions in different languages (e.g., for both an assistant professor of Russian and an instructor of French), as well as notices of single positions calling for expertise in more than one language (e.g., associate professor of Spanish and German).

Comparative Literature, Linguistics and ESL, and Other Sections

Notices in these fields have been separated out from the main body of the issue and placed under the appropriate heading.

Comments on Previous Listings

This section contains statements submitted by departments commenting on entries in the October List (e.g., announcing a new application deadline, reporting an address correction, etc.).

General Advice for Candidates

Be sure that your dossier (transcript, letters of recommendation, and other material) is ready to be sent out by your placement bureau to any department that requests it. Prepare and duplicate a one-page vita sheet to enclose with any letters of application or inquiry. In your letter of application, it is probably wise to express a willingness to be interviewed at the department's convenience. Professional meetings provide a convenient opportunity for such interviews (see MLA convention information on p. ii).

While it is important to begin to search for a position immediately, you should be aware that hiring goes on all year. Surveys indicate that only about half of all English and foreign language departments have begun recruiting by the end of December and that the majority of departments do not complete the recruiting process until spring, in some cases until summer.

Bear in mind that the candidate who has not limited his or her search for a new position to a particular geographical area or kind of institution is most likely to find a position. Do not discount the small colleges where one often has the opportunity to teach a wide selection of courses to students of varied backgrounds.

Notice on Tenure Policies

The Modern Language Association recommends that department administrators and their representatives inform candidates before or during the interview about prospects for tenure in the specific position under consideration and about the tenure policies and practices in their departments and institutions. If the information is not offered, candidates are urged to inquire about these policies.

Acknowledgment of Applications

Acting on a recommendation from the MLA Delegate Assembly, the MLA Executive Council has adopted a policy calling for departments to acknowledge all applications for announced positions either by letter or by self-addressed postcards provided by applicants.

MLA Guide to the Job Search

The MLA Guide to the Job Search (New York: MLA, 1997) contains much useful information and advice to assist candidates in organizing their job searches confidently and competently. Copies of the Guide are available to JIL subscribers for $8.00 and no shipping and handling charge. The regular price of the Guide is $10.00 ($8.00 for MLA members), plus $3.00 for shipping and handling. To order a copy, write, enclosing a check, to MLA Member and Customer Services, 10 Astor Place, New York, NY 10003-6981.

LIST OF ADMINISTRATIONS CENSURED

BY THE AMERICAN ASSOCIATION OF UNIVERSITY PROFESSORS

Note: The following list and accompanying explanatory note are reprinted from Academe by permission of the American Association of University Professors and in accordance with the action of the MLA Delegate Assembly.

Investigations by the American Association of University Professors of the administrations of the institutions listed below show that, as evidenced by a past violation, they are not observing the generally recognized principles of academic freedom and tenure endorsed by this Association, the Association of American Colleges and Universities, and more than 150 other professional and educational organizations. The 1940 Statement of Principles on Academic Freedom and Tenure may be found in the May-June 1990 issue of Academe.

This list is published for the purpose of informing Association members, the profession at large, and the public that unsatisfactory conditions of academic freedom and tenure have been found to prevail at these institutions. Names are placed on or removed from this censure list by vote of the Association's Annual Meeting.

Placing the name of an institution on this list does not mean that censure is visited either upon the whole of the institution or upon the faculty, but specifically upon its present administration. The term "administration" includes the administrative officers and the governing board of the institution. This censure does not affect the eligibility of nonmembers for membership in the Association, nor does it affect the individual rights of members at the institution in question.

Members of the Association have often considered it to be their duty, in order to indicate their support of the principles violated, to refrain from accepting appointment to an institution so long as it remains on the censure list. Since circumstances differ widely from case to case, the Association does not assert that such an unqualified obligation exists for its members; it does urge that, before accepting appointments, they seek information on present conditions of academic freedom and tenure from the Association's Washington office and prospective departmental colleagues. The Association leaves it to the discretion of the individual, possessed of the facts, to make the proper decision.

The censured administrations, with dates of censuring, are listed below. Reports were published as indicated by the Bulletin or Academe citations in parentheses following each listing. Reference should also be made to "Developments Relating to Censure by the Association" and to the "Report of Committee A," each of which appears annually in Academe.

S.C. Fang Endowed Chair in Chinese Language and Culture

MIT's School of Humanities and Social Science invites applications and nominations for this tenured appointment. Applicants should have a distinguished record of scholarship and teaching. The primary appointment will be in Foreign Languages and Literatures. Applications will, however, be invited from a wide range of humanistic disciplines including: Anthropology, Cultural Studies of Science and Technology, Foreign Languages and Literatures, History, Media Studies, Philosophy, and Sociology. Joint appointments with related MIT departments will be considered.

MIT has developed a strong program in Chinese language and culture, student internships in China, and support for collaborative research with Chinese academics. It has China specialists on its faculty in Comparative Literature, History, Political Science, Management, and Urban Studies and Planning. The School of Humanities and Social Science has six graduate programs, including a Ph.D. in the History and Social Study of Science and Technology, and a new Masters degree in Comparative Media Studies. We expect the successful candidate to teach undergraduate courses related to China in the candidate's specialty as well as graduate courses where appropriate. Consideration of applications will continue until the position is filled. MIT is an affirmative action employer and welcomes applications from women and members of minority groups.

Applicants should submit a letter of application with a curriculum vitae as well as names of three references to: Chair, S. C. Fang Chair Search Committee, Foreign Languages and Literatures, 14N-303, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, 77 Massachusetts Avenue, Cambridge, MA 02139-4307.

U of Hong Kong

Registry, Appointments Unit, Hong Kong

Assistant Professor/Lecturer in Chinese-English Translation in the Department of Chinese

00910

Being the most established tertiary education institution in Hong Kong, The University of Hong Kong has attained unparalleled achievements since 1911 in Hong Kong and the Region by drawing on the great cultural traditions of China and the West. In recent years the University has emerged as a major research institution with nine faculties, a School of Business and more than 100 departments and sub-divisions of studies and learning. There is currently an enrolment of more than 15,000 students, full-time and part-time, of which 4,000 are at post-graduate level. Overseas students from more than 40 countries are attracted to HKU to pursue the research degrees of PhD and MPhil. English is the language of instruction at HKU, except for the Department of Chinese.

Our firm commitment to research excellence and internationalisation has established the University as one of the top research universities in the Region. We are committed to our vision of globalisation and enhancing our research excellence.

Applications are invited for appointment as Assistant Professor (in the grade of Lecturer)/Lecturer (in the grade of Assistant Lecturer) in Chinese-English Translation in the Department of Chinese (Ref. RF-98/99-79), tenable from 1 September 1999 or as soon as possible thereafter. The appointment will be made on a fixed-term basis of three years.

The Department of Chinese, established in 1927, is devoted to promoting the understanding of Chinese language, literature and history and cultivating exchange of East-West cultures. Achieving excellence in both teaching and research so as to attain a high international academic reputation is the goal. In recent years, the Department has played an active role in enhancing the Chinese language standard of University students. It offers a wide spectrum of undergraduate, postgraduate and voluntary programmes. Applicants should have a relevant higher degree and appropriate teaching and research experience in Chinese-English Translation. Preference will be given to applicants with a PhD or expertise in oral interpretation.

Annual salaries [attracting 15% (taxable) terminal gratuity] are on the following scales, with starting salary depending on qualifications and experience: Assistant Professor (in the grade of Lecturer): HK$554,280-HK$925,980 (11 points) * (approx. US$70,452 - US$117,697); Lecturer (in the grade of Assistant Lecturer): HK$403,740 - HK$516,720 (4 points) (approx. US$51,317 - US$65,678) (US Dollar equivalents as at 22 December 1998) *An appointee with an annual salary at HK$94,140) or above may be considered for the award of the title of Associate Professor. At current rates, salaries tax will not exceed 15% of gross income. The appointment carries leave, medical and dental benefits and an allowance for children's education in Hong Kong, and, in some cases, a financial subsidy under the Home Financing Scheme for reimbursing either the actual rental payments or the actual mortgage repayment may be provided.

Further particulars and application forms can be obtained on WWW at <http://www.hku.hk/apptunit/>; or from the Appointments Unit (Senior), Registry, The University of Hong Kong, Hong Kong (Fax (852) 2540 6735 or 2559 2058; E-mail: apptunit@reg.hku.hk). Closes 12 March 1999. The University is an equal opportunity employer and is working towards a smoke-free environment.

College of Arts and Science, Oxford Ohio 45056

Chair, Department of French and Italian

The Department of French and Italian is seeking applications and nominations for the position of Department Chair at the rank of associate or full professor with tenure, effective July 1, 1999.

Qualifications: We seek an individual with the ability to provide the department with strong intellectual leadership, both by example and by effective advocacy. Candidates should have a record of significant scholarship and teaching in French, and have sensitivity to the concerns of the various critical orientations among faculty, and a strong commitment to both undergraduate and graduate (MA) education. The successful candidate must also demonstrate the potential for leading the Department in these areas of responsibility: undergraduate and graduate instruction and curriculum, faculty recruitment and hiring, course scheduling, faculty work-load determination and teaching assignments, faculty development, salary and budget management, planning, assessment, and the maintenance of high academic and intellectual standards. The chair reports to the Dean of the College of Arts and Science and is appointed to a five-year renewable term of service.

The Department of French and Italian has a full-time faculty of fourteen, two of whom are fully dedicated to the program in Italian. Faculty are very active in scholarly research, including books and articles published by the most respected university presses and journals, and invited lectures at major universities. The Department regularly hosts an endowed symposium and publication series, the Irvin Colloquia. The Department is strongly committed to both undergraduate and graduate education, offering courses through the MA level in language, literature, criticism, culture and film studies. Faculty contribute to several interdisciplinary programs in the university, including European studies, American studies, film studies, medieval studies, women's studies, and courses in gay and lesbian studies. The Department's summer programs in Dijon and Urbino are well established and well subscribed.

Application: Candidates should submit a letter of application, a curriculum vitae and three letters of recommendation which address specific qualifications for this kind of appointment. The Search Committee will begin screening completed applications on January 11, 1999 and continue its work until an appointment is made. Applications and nominations should be sent to: Reed Anderson, Associate Dean, College of Arts and Science, 142 Upham Hall, Miami University, Oxford, OH 45056.

The College of Arts and Science is the largest academic division at Miami University with over 400 FTE faculty and approximately 5700 undergraduate majors. The College of Arts and Science requires intermediate proficiency in a foreign language for the BA degree. Miami is a state-assisted university, with approximately 16,000 students on its Oxford, OH campus. Miami has regional campuses in two nearby cities, Middletown and Hamilton, and a European Center in Luxembourg.
