SUBSCRIPTION INFORMATION

The print version of the Job Information List is published four times during the academic year—in October, December, February, and April. Listings are solicited from two- and four-year colleges and universities for all issues. The cost of an online-only subscription is $35. The cost of a print-only subscription is $45 in the United States and Canada and $70 elsewhere. The cost of a subscription to both online and print versions is $65 in the United States and Canada and $90 elsewhere. The List is sent by first-class mail to subscribers in the United States and Canada and by airmail to all other areas; delivery should be shortly after the publication dates listed below. Please note, however, that these are projected dates only and are subject to change without notice. A subscription form is available at www.mla.org.

October issue	18 October 2002
December issue	15 November 2002
February issue	14 February 2003
April issue	15 April 2003

Further inquiries should be directed to Roy Chustek, Editor, Job Information List, MLA, 26 Broadway, 3rd floor, New York, NY 10004 (646 576-5133; rchustek@mla.org).

ACCESSING THE ELECTRONIC JIL

An online version of the Job Information List is available for searching by individuals who have subscribed to the electronic JIL as well as by job seekers in ADE- and ADFL-member departments. A user name and password are required to search the database. To find your user name and password, follow these directions:

If you are an individual subscriber: If you already have a user name and password, use them. If you do not, you may retrieve them online at the MLA Web site (www.mla.org). Follow the link to the JIL page and click on the appropriate "Search" button; when the password prompt appears, scroll down and enter your e-mail address in the appropriate box and click "E-mail me." Your user name and password will be sent to the e-mail address that you specified when you subscribed. You have the option to change your user name and password whenever you choose by logging in at the JIL page and then clicking the "Subscriber Information" button at the top of the search form and following the instructions for changing your user name and password.

If you are a job seeker in an ADE- or ADFL-member department: Graduate students and faculty members in departments that are current paid members of ADE or ADFL have access to the online JIL as a benefit of their department's ADE or ADFL membership. You must access the JIL through the ADE or ADFL home pages (www.ade.org; www.adfl.org). Information on how to access the online JIL on this basis is available from your department chair.

INFORMATION FOR CANDIDATES

In This Issue

The December issue contains descriptions of approximately 300 definite and possible vacancies. Readers should note that departments are not encouraged to repeat listings. If a notice that appeared in the October issue is not readvertised, you should not assume that the position is no longer available. The only reliable guide to application is to check the deadline reported in the original notice or a current announcement in this List. The December listings are broken down by language as follows: French, 30 definite, 1 possible; Spanish, 118 definite, 7 possible; German, 16 definite, 1 possible; Italian, 9 definite; Slavic, 10 definite; Romance languages, 5 definite; multiple language fields, 39 definite; and linguistics, Middle Eastern and Asian languages, comparative literature, and other language fields, 79 definite, 1 possible.

Guide for Using the Job Information List

US and Canadian Departments

The main body of the List, arranged in alphabetical order by language, contains information on definite or possible vacancies and notices from departments that expect no vacancies but would nevertheless like to keep résumés on file.

Read through this section item by item to see which departments would welcome your letter of application or inquiry at this time. Send letters only to departments expressing an interest in a person with your qualifications. If a notice states that no vacancies are expected but that the department would like to maintain a file of prospective candidates, you must decide in each case whether it is worthwhile to write.

Multiple Language Listings

Notices in which the language field is open, as well as notices of single positions calling for expertise in more than one language (e.g., associate professor of Spanish and German).

Comparative Literature and Linguistics and ESL Sections

Notices in these fields have been separated out from the main body of the issue and placed under the appropriate heading.

General Advice for Candidates

Be sure that your dossier (transcript, letters of recommendation, and other material) is ready to be sent out by your placement bureau to any department that requests it. Prepare and duplicate a one-page vita sheet to enclose with any letters of application or inquiry. In your letter of application, it is probably wise to express a willingness to be interviewed at the department's convenience. Professional meetings provide a convenient opportunity for such interviews (see MLA convention information on p. iii).

While it is important to begin to search for a position immediately, you should be aware that hiring goes on all year. Surveys indicate that only about half of all English and foreign language departments have begun recruiting by the end of December and that the majority of departments do not complete the recruiting process until spring, in some cases until summer.

Bear in mind that the candidate who has not limited his or her search for a new position to a particular geographical area or kind of institution is most likely to find a position. Do not discount the small colleges where one often has the opportunity to teach a wide selection of courses to students of varied backgrounds.

Notice on Tenure Policies

The Modern Language Association recommends that department administrators and their representatives inform candidates before or during the interview about prospects for tenure in the specific position under consideration and about the tenure policies and practices in their departments and institutions. If the information is not offered, candidates are urged to inquire about these policies.

Acknowledgment of Applications

Acting on a recommendation from the MLA Delegate Assembly, the MLA Executive Council has adopted a policy calling for departments to acknowledge all applications for announced positions either by letter or by self-addressed postcards provided by applicants.

MLA Policy on the Reimbursement of Job Seekers

The following policies were recommended by the Delegate Assembly in December 1999 and approved by the MLA Executive Council in February 2000.

It is MLA policy that:

- Departments that require that job applicants send their application materials by express carrier reimburse those applicants for the cost of such shipment; and
- Departments that require multiple copies of writing samples and other application materials from job applicants reimburse applicants for the cost of duplicating their writing samples and other materials; and
- Departments that require books will return them to the applicant; and
- Departments that invite job applicants for on-campus interviews reimburse those applicants who accept such invitations for the costs of travel and accommodations incurred when visiting the campus for interviews.

MLA Guide to the Job Search

The MLA Guide to the Job Search (New York: MLA, 1997) contains much useful information and advice to assist candidates in organizing their job searches confidently and competently. Copies of the Guide are available to JIL subscribers for $5.00 and no shipping and handling charge. The regular price of the Guide is $10.00 ($8.00 for MLA members), plus $3.00 for shipping and handling. To order a copy, write, enclosing a check, to MLA Member and Customer Services, 26 Broadway, 3rd floor, New York, NY 10004-1789.

MLA ANNUAL CONVENTION

The Annual Convention of the Modern Language Association will be held in New York, 27–30 December 2002. The Job Information Center will be located in the Lyceum Complex, Fifth Floor, Marriott, for both English and foreign languages. Job candidates, departmental administrators, and representatives who wish to use the facilities of the Job Information Center must be registered for the convention. The following services will be provided:

- (1) Interviewer's Sign-In Desk for Departments. Departmental administrators or representatives who plan to hold job interviews during the convention, whether in their own hotel rooms or in the Interview Area of the Job Information Center, should sign in (name, institution, hotel, and room number) at the Job Information Center, so that candidates with whom they have set up interviews will be able to locate them. Although an interviewer's name may appear in "Who's Where," for security reasons hotel switchboards will not give out guests' room numbers—and are in any case extremely busy. A brief stop at the sign-in desk by a thoughtful interviewer can save much confusion and worry for candidates. The sign-in desk will be open from 11:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m. on 27 December, from 9:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m. on 28 December, from 9:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. on 29 December, and from 9:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon on 30 December. There will be no telephone interview location service.
- (2) Counseling Service. The Job Information Center counseling service affords job seekers the opportunity to discuss individual employment problems with experienced department administrators. While counselors cannot help candidates obtain interviews, they can and will offer objective, concrete advice on such matters as the appropriate content and presentation of vitae and letters of application, the kinds of institutions to which candidates might most profitably apply, and realistic approaches to job interviews. Counselors will be on hand at the center to speak with interested candidates from 10:15 a.m. until 5:15 p.m. on 28 and 29 December. Appointments can be arranged through the staff member on duty in the interview area of the job center.
- (3) Interview Area. For the convenience of departmental representatives and candidates, there will be an interview area for English and foreign languages within the Job Information Center. Interviewers who wish to use this area should schedule their own interviews either by letter before the convention or by leaving messages at the message center. Table assignments in the interview area, which will be open from 12:00 noon until 8:00 p.m. on 27 December, from 9:00 a.m. until 8:00 p.m. on 28 December, from 9:00 a.m. until 6:00 p.m. on 29 December, and from 9:00 a.m. until 12:00 noon on 30 December, will be given to departmental representatives on a first-come, first-served basis. MLA staff members will be on duty in the area to assist interviewers and candidates.
- (4) Vacancy Notices. A list of job openings received too late to be included in the December Job Information List will be posted on bulletin boards in the Job Information Center. Departmental representatives who have last-minute vacancies should submit detailed descriptions of these to an MLA staff member in the center, who will see that they are posted on the boards. Such notices may also appear in the February Job Information List so that candidates who do not attend the convention will have an opportunity to apply.
- (5) Message Center. Open from 12:00 noon until 8:00 p.m. on 27 December, from 9:00 a.m. until 8:00 p.m. on 28 December, from 9:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. on 29 December, and from 9:00 a.m. until 11:30 a.m. on 30 December, the message center will help candidates and interviewers who have corresponded before the convention to establish specific interview times and places. The message center will not be useful to those who leave messages at random for persons who may not even be in attendance at the convention. Such messages are not picked up, and they serve only to defeat the purpose of the center.

While every effort will be made to assist candidates and interviewers in the Job Information Center, it should be noted that the MLA does not have the facilities for introducing candidates and interviewers who have not corresponded prior to the convention.

THERE IS VERY LITTLE OPEN INTERVIEWING AT THE CONVENTION. JOB CANDIDATES WHO DO NOT HAVE PREARRANGED INTERVIEWS SHOULD NOT PLAN TO ATTEND FOR THE SOLE PURPOSE OF SEEKING EMPLOYMENT.

Meetings of Interest to Job Candidates and Interviewers at the MLA Convention

Howard Figler Job Clinic. Thursday, 26 December, 4:00 p.m., Marriott. Continues 27 December; concludes 28 December, 12:00 noon. Separate fee and registration required.

1. A Preconvention Workshop for Job Seekers: The Job Search in English. Friday, 27 December, 3:30–4:45 p.m., Gramercy A, Hilton.

2. A Preconvention Workshop for Members of Search Committees. Friday, 27 December, 3:30–4:45 p.m., Concourse D, Hilton.
3. A Preconvention Workshop for Job Seekers: The Job Search in Foreign Languages. Friday, 27 December, 3:30–4:45 p.m., Royal Ballroom D, Sheraton.
78. Mock Interviews for Job Seekers in Foreign Languages. Friday, 27 December, 8:45–10:00 p.m., Conference L, Sheraton.

LIST OF ADMINISTRATIONS CENSURED

BY THE AMERICAN ASSOCIATION OF UNIVERSITY PROFESSORS

*Note: The following list and accompanying explanatory note are reprinted from Academe by permission of the American Association of University Professors and in accordance with the action of the MLA Delegate Assembly.*

Investigations by the American Association of University Professors of the administrations of the institutions listed below show that, as evidenced by a past violation, they are not observing the generally recognized principles of academic freedom and tenure endorsed by this Association, the Association of American Colleges and Universities, and more than 150 other professional and educational organizations. The 1940 Statement of Principles on Academic Freedom and Tenure may be found in the May-June 1990 issue of Academe.

This list is published for the purpose of informing Association members, the profession at large, and the public that unsatisfactory conditions of academic freedom and tenure have been found to prevail at these institutions. Names are placed on or removed from this censure list by vote of the Association's Annual Meeting.

Placing the name of an institution on this list does not mean that censure is visited either upon the whole of the institution or upon the faculty, but specifically upon its present administration. The term "administration" includes the administrative officers and the governing board of the institution. This censure does not affect the eligibility of nonmembers for membership in the Association, nor does it affect the individual rights of members at the institution in question.

Members of the Association have often considered it to be their duty, in order to indicate their support of the principles violated, to refrain from accepting appointment to an institution so long as it remains on the censure list. Since circumstances differ widely from case to case, the Association does not assert that such an unqualified obligation exists for its members; it does urge that, before accepting appointments, they seek information on present conditions of academic freedom and tenure from the Association's Washington office and prospective departmental colleagues. The Association leaves it to the discretion of the individual, possessed of the facts, to make the proper decision.

The censured administrations, with dates of censuring, are listed below. Reports were published as indicated by the Bulletin or Academe citations in parentheses following each listing. Reference should also be made to "Developments Relating to Censure by the Association" and to the "Report of Committee A," each of which appears annually in Academe.

Assistant Professor of Spanish 340

<http://www.pitt.edu/~hispan>

The Department of Hispanic Languages and Literatures at the University of Pittsburgh is seeking applications for a tenure track position at the Assistant Professor level in Spanish literature. Subject to budgetary approval, the appointment would begin with the Fall Term, 2003. The position requires the ability to teach graduate and undergraduate courses in both 19th and 20th century Peninsular literature, but applicants with specialization in other areas, or peninsular generalists, are also welcome. The department is known mainly for its strength in Latin American literature and cultural studies, with the understanding that aspects of peninsular literature and culture are essential too. We are particularly interested therefore in candidates whose work has an Atlanticist dimension, capable of bridging between Spain and Latin America, in both colonial/postcolonial contexts and/or the question of parallel modernities (e.g. relations between modernismo and Generation of 98). Familiarity with contemporary theoretical discussions related to these issues, and strong publication record—and/or indication of forthcoming work in progress—are essential. Ph.D. or strong evidence that Ph.D. will be completed before assuming position required. Applications will be received until December 9, 2002. Send letter of application, CV, three letters of recommendation, and publication samples to: John Beverley, Chair, 1309 Cathedral of Learning, University of Pittsburgh, Pittsburgh, PA 15260. Phone: (412) 624-6382; Fax: (412) 624-8505; e-mail: brq@pitt.edu. The University of Pittsburgh is an Affirmative Action, Equal Opportunity Employer. <http://www.fp.ucalgary.ca/humanities/>

The Department of French, Italian and Spanish and the Department of Germanic, Slavic and East Asian Studies at the University of Calgary announce the opening, starting July 1, 2003, of two tenure-track professorial positions in the general area of second-language acquisition and pedagogy. One position will be at the senior level and the other at the assistant professor level; one position requires native or near-native fluency in French, Italian and/or Spanish, the other in German. These positions are being created as part of the major commitment by the Faculty of Humanities to the area of second language learning and are being made in conjunction with the recently created Language Research Centre. Areas of research expertise can include all aspects of second-language acquisition, but especially curricular and pedagogical design and the application of new technologies in this learning. The appointment at the senior level will include an initial secondment (with teaching release for up to two half-course equivalents per academic year) to the Language Research Centre. Among the duties associated with this secondment will be the development of graduate and post-degree continuous learning programmes in the area of language learning as well as the crafting of externally fundable research projects that are related to the mandate of the Research Centre. Launched with the help of a grant from the Canada Foundation for Innovation and another from the Alberta Science and Research Investment Program, the Language Research Centre at the University of Calgary is a joint initiative of the Faculties of Humanities and Social Sciences with support from the Faculty of Education. It conducts research in several key areas relevant to second-language learning, including the use of technology in second language learning, the connection between language and culture, the role of writing in language acquisition, immersion education, government language policies, minority languages, distance learning, and dialectology. The requirements for both positions include a PhD or equivalent degree. Of crucial importance is an active research programme in the area of second language learning. For the senior position, administrative experience along with a successful record in research grant applications are core requirements. Applications, to be received by November 15, 2002, should include a cover letter, a complete curriculum vitae, information concerning teaching effectiveness and (for the junior appointment) transcripts related to the candidate's graduate studies. Applicants should also arrange for three confidential letters of reference or their placement dossier to be received by that date. All material should be addressed to: Dr. Douglas C. Department Chair

<http://condor.depaul.edu/~mol>

Applications and nominations are invited for the position of chair of the Department of Modern Languages. The department presently consists of 16 tenured and tenure-track faculty and approximately 30 part-time faculty. It offers B.A. degrees in French, German, Italian, Japanese Studies and Spanish as well as beginning and intermediate-level courses in Arabic, Chinese, Hebrew, Latin and Russian. Faculty in the department also offer courses in interdisciplinary programs, courses in the Liberal Studies program, and courses with a service learning component. They often direct Study Abroad programs.

Candidates should have: a Ph. D. in a modern language or literature, or a related field such as comparative literature or linguistics; distinguished research credentials commensurate with the rank of full professor; an excellent teaching record; and a history of university and professional service, with strong interpersonal skills and demonstrated administrative abilities.

The chair will: • Lead the department and provide the vision needed to deal with the changing roles and duties of a modern languages department in a university with an increasingly international focus, • Build consensus among a varied faculty, • Encourage and support excellent teaching and research throughout the department, • Develop new programs in conjunction with other departments and colleges within the university, • Respond to the challenges presented by a growing university operating on multiple campuses.

DePaul is a Catholic, urban, and Vincentian university with a strong social activist tradition. Despite impressive success in program development and enrollment increases, the university has refused an elitist admission policy and has consciously chosen to provide a quality education to a broad spectrum of students of differing abilities. With a student body of over 20,000, the university wishes to recruit a faculty that continues to reflect the diversity of its student body and the city of Chicago.

To receive full consideration, please submit applications by November 15, 2002. Candidates should send a CV and a statement of academic leadership philosophy and arrange to have four letters of recommendation mailed to the Chair of Search Committee, Department of Modern Languages, McGaw 303, 802 W. Belden, Chicago, IL. 60614. The statement of academic leadership philosophy should address the role of a modern languages department in a comprehensive urban university and include ideas on the effective teaching of language and literatures. Foreign Languages Department Chair

A growing and progressive university in Georgia's public system of higher education invites applications for a twelve-month, tenure-track position as Department Chair in the Department of Foreign Languages beginning Summer 2003. The department currently offers a B. A. in Spanish, a B.A. in French, a B.S. in Spanish Education, and a B.S. in French Education, and courses in other languages such as German, Italian, and Latin. However, in an effort to enhance the recruitment and retention of students in the study of foreign languages and address the extensive statewide demand for certified foreign language public school teachers, the department is in the process of revising its undergraduate program offerings and is working on a proposal for a new Master's program in Hispanic Studies. Distinctive departmental features include strong collaboration with KSU's Bagwell College of Education and area public schools, leadership in international initiatives in collaboration with the Center for Hispanic Studies and the International Center, and a model alternative preparation program leading to teacher certification.

RESPONSIBILITIES/QUALIFICATIONS: The University seeks an individual to enhance enrollment in foreign language programs, support the department's curricular focus on language and culture. The Chair will be expected to help address the state's critical need in the preparation of foreign language teachers, support the department's international focus, and seek external funding to support the scholarship and professional service initiatives in the department. In addition to departmental administration, the Chair will carry some teaching responsibilities. The successful candidate must have native or near-native proficiency in English and at least one other modern language taught in the department; an earned doctorate in an appropriate field; significant and effective academic administrative experience; a demonstrated commitment to teacher education, to communicative approaches to teaching world languages, and to international initiatives; sensitivity and responsiveness to issues of diversity, multiculturalism and inclusion; an energetic, collaborative, and productive leadership style; effective communication skills; and a notable record of teaching, professional service, and applied scholarship commensurate with the rank of associate or full professor.

APPLICATION INSTRUCTIONS: Applications will be accepted until the position is filled. To guarantee consideration, application materials must be post-marked by November 24, 2002. Candidates should send a letter of application addressing the applicant's position qualifications, teaching philosophy, administrative philosophy, and scholarship activity; current curriculum vitae; names, addresses, and telephone numbers of at least three references; and official graduate transcripts to Dr. Helen Ridley, Associate Dean, College of Humanities & Social Sciences, 1000 Chastain Rd., Mailbox #2301, Kennesaw, GA, 30144-5591, hridley@kennesaw.edu. Kenyon College Dissertation/Teaching Fellowship 1442<http://www.kenyon.edu>

One of the most significant challenges confronting small liberal arts colleges in the United States today is how to increase the relatively small number of minority faculty teaching at such institutions. Creating a diverse and representative group of teachers benefits students, faculty, and administrators alike, by enriching the nature of the education experience for all. We recognize, though, that young scholars who are members of underrepresented groups frequently choose to pursue their careers as teachers and scholars at research universities rather than at small liberal arts colleges. In order to encourage such scholars to consider college rather than university teaching, Kenyon College offers the Kenyon College Dissertation/Teaching Fellowship for Minority Scholars. The program aims at minority scholars in the final stages of their doctoral work who need only to finish the dissertation to complete requirements for the Ph.D. We hope the experience of living and working for a year at Kenyon will encourage these fellows to consider a liberal arts college as a place to begin their careers as teachers and scholars. In the past, fellowships have been awarded in: African and African American Studies, American Studies, Anthropology, Art History, Biology, English, History, Math, Modern Languages and Literatures(Spanish), Music, Religious Studies and Sociology. Kenyon will provide a stipend of $32,500, plus health benefits, housing, and a small moving allowance. The College will also provide an allowance to cover travel to conferences or for consultation with the dissertation director. Kenyon will assist the Fellow in finding college housing. The Fellow will be provided an office, a networked computer, and secretarial support services. Faculty colleagues at Kenyon recognize and embrace the opportunity to welcome and mentor new faculty members. The Kenyon Fellow is expected to write the dissertation and to teach one course each semester, usually in the Fellow's general research area. Fellows are also expected to offer a College lecture or Departmental seminar on the dissertation topic at some point during the academic year in residence. Kenyon College assumes that the Fellow will participate in the intellectual life of his/her home department, as well as in the broader cultural life of the College. Our primary expectation, however, and the main focus of this fellowship, is the completion of the dissertation. Eligibility to apply for the Kenyon College Dissertation/Teaching Fellowship for Minority Scholars is limited to: Citizens or nationals of the United States at the time of application. Members of the following minority groups: Alaskan Natives (Eskimo or Aleut) Native American Indians Black/African Americans Mexican Americans/Chicano Native Pacific Islanders (Polynesian or Micronesian) Puerto Ricans Individuals who are enrolled in a research-based PhD program in one of the following fields: African and African American, American Studies, Anthropology, Art History, Asian Studies, Biology, Classics, Dance, Drama, Economics, English, Environmental Studies, History, Humanities, International Studies, Math, Modern Languages and Literature, Music, Philosophy, Political Science, Psychology, Religious Studies, Sociology, and Women's and Gender Studies. Individuals who aspire to a teaching and research career. Persons who have not yet earned a doctoral degree at any time and in any field. Please send a letter of application, vita, and three letters of references (including the dissertation advisor) to the Office of the Associate Provost, Kenyon College, Gambier, OH 43022. The Search Committee will begin consideration of the dossiers on January 6, 2003. [R]

Vilas Professorship in the Humanities 1527

<http://www.uwm.edu/letsci/jobs/>

The University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee invites applications and nominations for the prestigious Vilas Professorship in the Humanities. In seeking to fill the Vilas Professorship, our preference is to recruit someone whose scholarly achievements are in modern culture (e.g., literature, cultural studies, intellectual history, film/media, performance studies). Specialty is less important than the qualities the candidate will bring to the university community. The Vilas Professorship affords generous research and travel support to a scholar who will continue to produce extraordinary, significant, and vital research and publication, and who will provide intellectual leadership within the humanities and the university. Applications will be reviewed beginning November 15, 2002 and will continue until the position is filled. Applications and nominations should be addressed to: Professor Jane Gallop, Chair, Vilas Search Committee Department of English University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee Box 413, Milwaukee, Wisconsin 53201. UWM is an AA/EO employer and educator strongly committed to maintaining a climate supporting equality of opportunity and respect for difference based on gender, culture, ethnicity, disability, sexual orientation, marital status, race, color, religion, national origin or ancestry, age and lawful activities. We particularly encourage applications from individuals who would enhance and diversify our work force. Please see <http://www.uwm.edu/letsci/jobs/> for more information on this position and UWM. [R]

Postdoctoral Fellow

<http://www.cjs.ucla.edu>

The UCLA Mellon Sawyer Seminar on "The Ethics of the Neighbor" will appoint one postdoctoral fellow for the 2003–2004 academic year. Applicants must have their doctorates in hand by Sept. 1, 2003. The Fellowship provides a stipend of $38,000.00. All Fellows are required to be in residence and to participate in the seminar (which meets once or twice a month), its conference, and related activities. No teaching duties are required of the Fellows. Neither brother nor stranger, friend nor enemy, the neighbor is that particular other who marks the ambiguous realm between family and polis, hence serves as a touchstone for an ethics not fully determined by the obligations of kinship or state. The Mellon Sawyer Seminar on "The Ethics of the Neighbor" will investigate the histories, theories, and fantasies that revolve around the figure of the neighbor, beginning with the biblical texts and post-biblical commentaries that are its origin and moving into its mutations in modernity. Our methodology will be interdisciplinary, including religious studies, history, literature and literary theory, law, philosophy, political theory, linguistics, psychoanalysis, and government. In a time when the bankruptcy of the universal ethics of the Enlightenment, the republican ideals of liberty, equality, and fraternity, and the revolutionary goals of communitarianism are taken as a commonplace, it is precisely in the negative space of such common ground that advocates of the possibility of community after Community come to meet. The concept of the neighbor that arises from the biblical injunction to "love thy neighbor as thyself" (Lev. 19:18) has generated a vast history of commentary in Judaism, Christianity, and Islam. Yet if an ethics of the neighbor takes on its urgency originally in religious discourses, it does not remain exclusive to those discourses for long, and soon passes into secular traditions of social thought and practice, including philosophy (e.g., Kierkegaard, Nietzsche, Rosenzweig, Levinas), political theory (e.g., Adorno, Arendt), psychoanalysis (e.g., Freud, Lacan), and a variety of forms of popular culture (fiction, film, and television). Moreover, the figure of "the neighbor" has become central to contemporary sites of political, social, and religious conflict such as the Middle East, the Balkans, East and South Africa, Northern Ireland, and Los Angeles itself. Hence the Mellon Sawyer Seminar will examine the implications of the ethics of the neighbor for various parts of the world we see unfolding around us today. There is no application form. Applicants should send a cover letter, a description (no more than 1500 words) of a scholarly project relevant to the seminar's topic, a CV, and three letters of recommendation by February 1st, 2003, to: Mellon Sawyer Postdoctoral Fellowship, Center for Jewish Studies, 302 Royce Hall, UCLA, Los Angeles, CA 90095-1485. For more information, please contact Susan Spitzer at (310) 825-5387 or CJS@humnet.ucla.edu.

Job Clinic at New York Convention

A Job Clinic for MLA members interested in employment outside the academy will be held at the 2002 convention in New York City. The Clinic will again be conducted by Howard Figler, career consultant, author ("The Complete Job Search Handbook"), and former director of the career center at the University of Texas at Austin. The eighteen previous clinics have been enthusiastically received by participants. The clinic will assist in learning about career options and marketable skills, preparing effective resumes, locating jobs, and improving interviewing and negotiation skills. It will consist of five sessions that begin at 4:00 p.m. on 26 December (one day before the formal opening of the convention) and conclude at noon on 28 December. There should be minimal conflict with other convention sessions. The cost is $215 in addition to the convention registration fee; enrollment is limited. To receive further particulars, write or e-mail (rchustek@mla.org) with your name and complete mailing address to the MLA Job Information Service.
