SUBSCRIPTION INFORMATION

The print version of the Job Information List is published four times during the academic year—in October, December, February, and April. Listings are solicited from two- and four-year colleges and universities for all issues. The cost of an online-only subscription is $35. The cost of a print-only subscription is $45 in the United States and Canada and $70 elsewhere. The cost of a subscription to both online and print versions is $65 in the United States and Canada and $90 elsewhere. The List is sent by first-class mail to subscribers in the United States and Canada and by airmail to all other areas; delivery should be shortly after the publication dates listed below. Please note, however, that these are projected dates only and are subject to change without notice. A subscription form is available at www.mla.org.

February issue 15 February 2002

April issue 15 April 2002

Further inquiries should be directed to Roy Chustek, Editor, Job Information List, MLA, 26 Broadway, New York, NY 10004 (646 576-5133; rchustek@mla.org).

ACCESSING THE ELECTRONIC JIL

An online version of the Job Information List is available for searching by individuals who have subscribed to the electronic JIL as well as by job seekers in ADE- and ADFL-member departments. A user name and password are required to search the database. To find your user name and password, follow these directions:

If you are an individual subscriber: If you already have a user name and password, use them. If you do not, you may retrieve them online at the MLA Web site (www.mla.org). Follow the link to the JIL page and click on the appropriate "Search" button; when the password prompt appears, scroll down and enter your e-mail address in the appropriate box and click "E-mail me." Your user name and password will be sent to the e-mail address that you specified when you subscribed. You have the option to change your user name and password whenever you choose by logging in at the JIL page and then clicking the "Subscriber Information" button at the top of the search form and following the instructions for changing your user name and password.

If you are a job seeker in an ADE- or ADFL-member department: Graduate students and faculty members in departments that are current paid members of ADE or ADFL have access to the online JIL as a benefit of their department's ADE or ADFL membership. You must access the JIL through the ADE or ADFL home pages (www.adefl.org; www.adfl.org). Information on how to access the online JIL on this basis is available from your department chair.

INFORMATION FOR CANDIDATES

In This Issue

The February issue contains descriptions of approximately 170 definite and possible vacancies. The listings are broken down by language as follows: French, 14 definite; Spanish, 64 definite, 1 possible; German, 14 definite; Italian, 6 definite; Slavic, 3 definite, 2 possible; Romance languages, 14 definite; multiple language fields, 4 definite; and linguistics, Middle Eastern and Asian languages, comparative literature, and other language fields, 48 definite.

Guide for Using the Job Information List

US and Canadian Departments

The main body of the List, arranged in alphabetical order by language, contains information on definite or possible vacancies and notices from departments that expect no vacancies but would nevertheless like to keep résumés on file.

Read through this section item by item to see which departments would welcome your letter of application or inquiry at this time. Send letters only to departments expressing an interest in a person with your qualifications. If a notice states that no vacancies are expected but that the department would like to maintain a file of prospective candidates, you must decide in each case whether it is worthwhile to write.

Multiple Language Listings

Notices in which the language field is open, as well as notices of single positions calling for expertise in more than one language (e.g., associate professor of Spanish and German).

Comparative Literature and Linguistics and ESL Sections

Notices in these fields have been separated out from the main body of the issue and placed under the appropriate heading.

General Advice for Candidates

Be sure that your dossier (transcript, letters of recommendation, and other material) is ready to be sent out by your placement bureau to any department that requests it. Prepare and duplicate a one-page vita sheet to enclose with any letters of application or inquiry. In your letter of application, it is probably wise to express a willingness to be interviewed at the department's convenience. Professional meetings provide a convenient opportunity for such interviews (see MLA convention information on p. iii).

While it is important to begin to search for a position immediately, you should be aware that hiring goes on all year. Surveys indicate that only about half of all English and foreign language departments have begun recruiting by the end of December and that the majority of departments do not complete the recruiting process until spring, in some cases until summer.

Bear in mind that the candidate who has not limited his or her search for a new position to a particular geographical area or kind of institution is most likely to find a position. Do not discount the small colleges where one often has the opportunity to teach a wide selection of courses to students of varied backgrounds.

Notice on Tenure Policies

The Modern Language Association recommends that department administrators and their representatives inform candidates before or during the interview about prospects for tenure in the specific position under consideration and about the tenure policies and practices in their departments and institutions. If the information is not offered, candidates are urged to inquire about these policies.

Acknowledgment of Applications

Acting on a recommendation from the MLA Delegate Assembly, the MLA Executive Council has adopted a policy calling for departments to acknowledge all applications for announced positions either by letter or by self-addressed postcards provided by applicants.

MLA Policy on the Reimbursement of Job Seekers

The following policies were recommended by the Delegate Assembly in December 1999 and approved by the MLA Executive Council in February 2000.

It is MLA policy that:

- Departments that require that job applicants send their application materials by express carrier reimburse those applicants for the cost of such shipment; and
- Departments that require multiple copies of writing samples and other application materials from job applicants reimburse applicants for the cost of duplicating their writing samples and other materials; and
- Departments that require books will return them to the applicant; and
- Departments that invite job applicants for on-campus interviews reimburse those applicants who accept such invitations for the costs of travel and accommodations incurred when visiting the campus for interviews.

MLA Guide to the Job Search

The MLA Guide to the Job Search (New York: MLA, 1997) contains much useful information and advice to assist candidates in organizing their job searches confidently and competently. Copies of the Guide are available to JIL subscribers for $5.00 and no shipping and handling charge. The regular price of the Guide is $10.00 ($8.00 for MLA members), plus $3.00 for shipping and handling. To order a copy, write, enclosing a check, to MLA Member and Customer Services, 26 Broadway, 3rd floor, New York, NY 10004-1789.

LIST OF ADMINISTRATIONS CENSURED

BY THE AMERICAN ASSOCIATION OF UNIVERSITY PROFESSORS

*Note: The following list and accompanying explanatory note are reprinted from Academe by permission of the American Association of University Professors and in accordance with the action of the MLA Delegate Assembly.*

Investigations by the American Association of University Professors of the administrations of the institutions listed below show that, as evidenced by a past violation, they are not observing the generally recognized principles of academic freedom and tenure endorsed by this Association, the Association of American Colleges and Universities, and more than 150 other professional and educational organizations. The 1940 Statement of Principles on Academic Freedom and Tenure may be found in the May-June 1990 issue of Academe.

This list is published for the purpose of informing Association members, the profession at large, and the public that unsatisfactory conditions of academic freedom and tenure have been found to prevail at these institutions. Names are placed on or removed from this censure list by vote of the Association's Annual Meeting.

Placing the name of an institution on this list does not mean that censure is visited either upon the whole of the institution or upon the faculty, but specifically upon its present administration. The term "administration" includes the administrative officers and the governing board of the institution. This censure does not affect the eligibility of nonmembers for membership in the Association, nor does it affect the individual rights of members at the institution in question.

Members of the Association have often considered it to be their duty, in order to indicate their support of the principles violated, to refrain from accepting appointment to an institution so long as it remains on the censure list. Since circumstances differ widely from case to case, the Association does not assert that such an unqualified obligation exists for its members; it does urge that, before accepting appointments, they seek information on present conditions of academic freedom and tenure from the Association's Washington office and prospective departmental colleagues. The Association leaves it to the discretion of the individual, possessed of the facts, to make the proper decision.

The censured administrations, with dates of censuring, are listed below. Reports were published as indicated by the Bulletin or Academe citations in parentheses following each listing. Reference should also be made to "Developments Relating to Censure by the Association" and to the "Report of Committee A," each of which appears annually in Academe.

DEPARTMENT CHAIRS/DEANSHIPS

Ball SU

Ofc of Provost & VP for Acad Affairs, Muncie IN 47306

Dean, College of Sciences and Humanities

Ball State University seeks a visionary leader for the position of Dean of the College of Sciences and Humanities. The successful candidate will guide the college as it strives for excellence in undergraduate and graduate education, works to attract and retain high-quality faculty, encourages faculty scholarship, promotes external research funding, and develops innovative ways to use instructional and information technology. The Dean of the College of Sciences and Humanities is the chief academic and administrative officer of the college and reports to the Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs. The dean plans, directs, and coordinates the operational, personnel, budgetary, and student activities of the college and provides leadership and direction in the development and implementation of curricula, academic programs, strategic planning initiatives, and related activities. The College of Sciences and Humanities is the largest of the seven colleges in the university and offers programs at the associate's, bachelor's, master's, and doctoral levels. Departments within the college include English, Modern Languages and Classics, and many others. Reporting to the Dean are two Associate Deans, support staff and business administrator, twenty department chairpersons, and the directors of the Social Science Research Center, the Software Engineering Research Center, and the Women's Studies Program. The college has more than 365 full-time faculty and an annual budget of more than $25 million. Minimum qualifications are an earned doctorate in a discipline within the college or a related field of study, demonstrated successful experience in higher education, academic administration, overall qualifications that will merit a tenured faculty appointment at senior rank in one of the departments of the college, evidence of successful teaching in higher education, evidence of scholarly and professional achievement in his or her field of study, and the ability to communicate effectively. Preferred qualifications are a record of obtaining external support for scholarly activities, a record of published research in refereed journals, a demonstrated commitment to diversity, experience in the administration of graduate education, and experience with fiscal management policies and procedures in higher education. Ball State University is a state-assisted institution of higher education located in Muncie, Indiana, a city of 70,000, fifty miles northeast of Indianapolis. A Carnegie Doctoral Intensive institution, Ball State offers 155 undergraduate programs, 90 master's programs, and 14 doctoral programs through its 48 academic departments. The university values teaching, research, and service and has a selective admissions policy. Primarily a residential academic community, Ball State also supports programs that reach students well beyond the immediate campus. The university's Strategic Plan and information about its nationally ranked programs are available at the university's website: www.bsu.edu. Review of application materials will begin January 15, 2002 and will continue until the position is filled. Appointment will begin July 1, 2002. Salary is competitive with a generous benefits package. Applicants and nominees should send a letter of application and curriculum vitae, along with the names and contact information of five professional references to: Dr. Ray Montagno (rvmontagno@bsu.edu), Chairperson, Search Committee for Dean of the College of Sciences and Humanities, Office of the Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs. Ball State University is an equal opportunity, affirmative action employer and is strongly and actively committed to diversity within its community.

Mellon Post-Doctoral Fellowship in East Asian Literature

Brandeis University invites applications for a two-year Mellon Post-Doctoral Fellowship in East Asian Literature, for the academic years 2002-2004. Applicants should be specialists in either Chinese or Japanese literature, including appropriate language expertise, and be comfortable with comparative approaches to literature. Besides their specialty, they should also be knowledgeable about the literature of at least one other East Asian nation. The Fellow will be hosted by the Departments of Romance and Comparative Literature, Germanic and Slavic Languages, and the Program in East Asian Studies. The Fellow will be expected to offer one course each semester for the term of the fellowship. These courses should not require that the students know an East Asian language. The Fellow will also have the opportunity to join in the activities of the participating Departments and of the East Asian Studies Program. Salary will be $38,000 in the first year and $45,000 in the second, plus benefits and relocation expenses. The Fellow will also receive a yearly research fund of $5,000. The successful applicant should have a Ph.D., and should have received it within the past five years. Applications should include a cover letter that indicates, among other things, the candidate's areas of expertise. The application should also include a C.V., and a project description. Applicants should also have three letters of reference. Send applications—and have the references sent to—Ms. Anna Huang, Mellon Committee, Department of Romance and Comparative Literature, Mailstop 024, Brandeis University, Waltham, MA 02454. The review of applications will begin on February 25, 2002 and continue until the position is filled. As an EO/AA

We offer teaching and administrative positions in an intensive, structured environment where pedagogical experimentation is encouraged and mentoring relationships with experienced faculty are facilitated and valued. Classes are small (12–15 students); every instructor has a TA. We seek candidates for site director (similar to head of school position) and academic dean (similar to dean of faculty position). To see our job offerings, course descriptions, and sample syllabi, please visit <http://www.jhu.edu/gifted/ctysummer/jobs/>, call 410-516-0053, or email ctysummer@jhu.edu. We begin reviewing applications February 1 and continue throughout the spring. If you are attending MLA and wish to talk with someone there about CTY, please email aemurdy@jhu.edu.
