SUBSCRIPTION INFORMATION

The print version of the Job Information List is published four times during the academic year—in October, December, February, and April. Listings are solicited from two- and four-year colleges and universities for all issues. The cost of an online-only subscription is $35. The cost of a print-only subscription is $45 in the United States and Canada and $70 elsewhere. The cost of a subscription to both online and print versions is $65 in the United States and Canada and $90 elsewhere. The List is sent by first-class mail to subscribers in the United States and Canada and by airmail to all other areas. This April List is the last regularly scheduled issue for 2002–03; however, a special Summer Supplement containing last-minute notices of vacancies will be mailed to all 2002–03 subscribers (both full-year and half-year) on 20 June. Renewal forms for 2003–04 will be included in the supplement.

Further inquiries should be directed to Roy Chustek, Editor, Job Information List, MLA, 26 Broadway, 3rd floor, New York, NY 10004 (646 576-5133; rchustek@mla.org).

ACCESSING THE ELECTRONIC JIL

An online version of the Job Information List is available for searching by individuals who have subscribed to the electronic JIL as well as by job seekers in ADE- and ADFL-member departments. A user name and password are required to search the database. To find your user name and password, follow these directions:

If you are an individual subscriber: If you already have a user name and password, use them. If you do not, you may retrieve them online at the MLA Web site (www.mla.org). Follow the link to the JIL page and click on the appropriate "Search" button; when the password prompt appears, scroll down and enter your e-mail address in the appropriate box and click "E-mail me." Your user name and password will be sent to the e-mail address that you specified when you subscribed. You have the option to change your user name and password whenever you choose by logging in at the JIL page and then clicking the "Subscriber Information" button at the top of the search form and following the instructions for changing your user name and password.

If you are a job seeker in an ADE- or ADFL-member department: Graduate students and faculty members in departments that are current paid members of ADE or ADFL have access to the online JIL as a benefit of their department's ADE or ADFL membership. You must access the JIL through the ADE or ADFL home pages (www.adefl.org; www.adfl.org). Information on how to access the online JIL on this basis is available from your department chair.

INFORMATION FOR CANDIDATES

In This Issue

The April issue contains descriptions of approximately 70 definite and possible vacancies. The listings are broken down by language as follows: French, 7 definite; Spanish, 28 definite; German, 1 definite; Italian, 6 definite, 1 possible; Slavic, 3 definite; Romance languages, 4 definite, 4 possible; multiple language fields, 4 definite; and linguistics, Middle Eastern and Asian languages, comparative literature, and other language fields, 12 definite.

Guide for Using the Job Information List

US and Canadian Departments

The main body of the List, arranged in alphabetical order by language, contains information on definite or possible vacancies and notices from departments that expect no vacancies but would nevertheless like to keep résumés on file.

Read through this section item by item to see which departments would welcome your letter of application or inquiry at this time. Send letters only to departments expressing an interest in a person with your qualifications. If a notice states that no vacancies are expected but that the department would like to maintain a file of prospective candidates, you must decide in each case whether it is worthwhile to write.

Multiple Language Listings

Notices in which the language field is open, as well as notices of single positions calling for expertise in more than one language (e.g., associate professor of Spanish and German).

Comparative Literature and Linguistics and ESL Sections

Notices in these fields have been separated out from the main body of the issue and placed under the appropriate heading.

General Advice for Candidates

Be sure that your dossier (transcript, letters of recommendation, and other material) is ready to be sent out by your placement bureau to any department that requests it. Prepare and duplicate a one-page vita sheet to enclose with any letters of application or inquiry. In your letter of application, it is probably wise to express a willingness to be interviewed at the department's convenience. Professional meetings provide a convenient opportunity for such interviews.

While it is important to begin to search for a position immediately, you should be aware that hiring goes on all year. Surveys indicate that only about half of all English and foreign language departments have begun recruiting by the end of December and that the majority of departments do not complete the recruiting process until spring, in some cases until summer.

Bear in mind that the candidate who has not limited his or her search for a new position to a particular geographical area or kind of institution is most likely to find a position. Do not discount the small colleges where one often has the opportunity to teach a wide selection of courses to students of varied backgrounds.

Notice on Tenure Policies

The Modern Language Association recommends that department administrators and their representatives inform candidates before or during the interview about prospects for tenure in the specific position under consideration and about the tenure policies and practices in their departments and institutions. If the information is not offered, candidates are urged to inquire about these policies.

Acknowledgment of Applications

Acting on a recommendation from the MLA Delegate Assembly, the MLA Executive Council has adopted a policy calling for departments to acknowledge all applications for announced positions either by letter or by self-addressed postcards provided by applicants.

MLA Policy on the Reimbursement of Job Seekers

The following policies were recommended by the Delegate Assembly in December 1999 and approved by the MLA Executive Council in February 2000.

It is MLA policy that:

- Departments that require that job applicants send their application materials by express carrier reimburse those applicants for the cost of such shipment; and
- Departments that require multiple copies of writing samples and other application materials from job applicants reimburse applicants for the cost of duplicating their writing samples and other materials; and
- Departments that require books will return them to the applicant; and
- Departments that invite job applicants for on-campus interviews reimburse those applicants who accept such invitations for the costs of travel and accommodations incurred when visiting the campus for interviews.

LIST OF ADMINISTRATIONS CENSURED

BY THE AMERICAN ASSOCIATION OF UNIVERSITY PROFESSORS

Note: The following list and accompanying explanatory note are reprinted from Academe by permission of the American Association of University Professors and in accordance with the action of the MLA Delegate Assembly.

Investigations by the American Association of University Professors of the administrations of the institutions listed below show that, as evidenced by a past violation, they are not observing the generally recognized principles of academic freedom and tenure endorsed by this Association, the Association of American Colleges and Universities, and more than 150 other professional and educational organizations. The 1940 Statement of Principles on Academic Freedom and Tenure may be found in the May-June 1990 issue of Academe.

This list is published for the purpose of informing Association members, the profession at large, and the public that unsatisfactory conditions of academic freedom and tenure have been found to prevail at these institutions. Names are placed on or removed from this censure list by vote of the Association's Annual Meeting.

Placing the name of an institution on this list does not mean that censure is visited either upon the whole of the institution or upon the faculty, but specifically upon its present administration. The term "administration" includes the administrative officers and the governing board of the institution. This censure does not affect the eligibility of nonmembers for membership in the Association, nor does it affect the individual rights of members at the institution in question.

Members of the Association have often considered it to be their duty, in order to indicate their support of the principles violated, to refrain from accepting appointment to an institution so long as it remains on the censure list. Since circumstances differ widely from case to case, the Association does not assert that such an unqualified obligation exists for its members; it does urge that, before accepting appointments, they seek information on present conditions of academic freedom and tenure from the Association's Washington office and prospective departmental colleagues. The Association leaves it to the discretion of the individual, possessed of the facts, to make the proper decision.

The censured administrations, with dates of censuring, are listed below. Reports were published as indicated by the Bulletin or Academe citations in parentheses following each listing. Reference should also be made to "Developments Relating to Censure by the Association" and to the "Report of Committee A," each of which appears annually in Academe.

Director Prince Alwaleed Bin Talal Bin Abdulaziz Alsaud Center for American Studies and Research. The American University in Cairo (AUC) is now accepting nominations and applications for a Director of the newly established Prince Alwaleed Bin Talal Bin Abdulaziz Alsaud Center for American Studies and Research. The specific discipline is open; it is expected that the successful candidate will have an established reputation as a teacher and strong record of publication, with a comprehensive knowledge of American institutions, cultures and politics. The appointee will play a central role in the development of the Center, which marks an important new direction for AUC. Responsibilities include the administration of the Center, which involves organizing its academic curriculum, teaching initiatives, research programs and outreach activities in addition to pursuing the appointee's own teaching and research interests. The Director will join other specialists in U.S. culture and society already on the faculty. The Ph. D. is required. This is a tenurable position; the initial appointment is for two or three years by mutual agreement and is subject to renewal. Founded in 1919, AUC's campus is located in Cairo, Egypt. Its degree programs are accredited by the Commission on Higher Education of the Middle States Association of Colleges and Schools. For more information see our website at www.aucegypt.edu. Appointment begins September 2003. English is the language of instruction. Salary and Rank are according to scale based on qualifications and professional experience. For expatriates, housing, annual round-trip air travel for appointee and qualifying dependents, plus schooling for up to two children are included. In view of AUC's protocol agreement with the Egyptian government, which requires specific proportions of Egyptian, U.S., and third-country citizen faculty, at this time preference will be given to qualified applicants who are U.S. citizens. Please send a nomination or letter of applications specifying Position CAS-1 with C.V. and names and full address of three references to facultyaffairs@aucnyo.edu or mail to: Dr. Earl (Tim) Sullivan, Provost, The American University in Cairo, 420 Fifth Avenue, Floor 3, New York, N.Y. 10018-2729, and complete the Personnel Information Form provided at <http://forms.aucegypt.edu/provost/pif3.html>. Lecturer in the Humanities

<http://ihum.stanford.edu>

STANFORD UNIVERSITY LECTURERS FOR THE INTRODUCTION TO THE HUMANITIES PROGRAM Stanford University seeks a number of lecturers to lead discussion sections in conjunction with courses offered in its Introduction to the Humanities Program, a part of Stanford Introductory Studies. Introduction to the Humanities (IHUM) courses fulfill the Area One requirement, the first of Stanford's undergraduate General Education Requirements. They aim to build intellectual foundations in humanistic study and enhance skills in analysis, reasoning, argumentation, and oral and written expression. IHUM courses are multi-disciplinary. Candidates are sought with doctoral degrees in humanities disciplines, including but not limited to those with special interest in literary studies, anthropology, German studies, classics, Islamic studies, Slavic studies, and musicology. Lecturers will assist faculty members in developing course materials; lead three discussion sections (averaging 15 students), each meeting twice weekly; and grade student work. Lecturers should acculturate students to university-level academic work and familiarize them with skills and approaches appropriate to humanistic disciplines. Information about the program, search updates and answers to frequently asked questions can be found at <http://ihum.stanford.edu>. Appointments of lecturers will be made for a one-year term in the 2003–2004 academic year, with a start date in mid-August, 2003. The position is renewable for up to two additional years upon application, with the possibility of one-quarter research leaves in the second and third years. Send letter of application, curriculum vitae, three letters of reference, and evidence of teaching excellence (e.g., evaluations, faculty references, etc.), by April 10, 2003 to IHUM Fellows Search Committee, c/o Ms. Susan Rose, Introduction to the Humanities Program Office, 250–251J, Stanford, CA 94305–2020. As a private institution, Stanford University has a strong and ongoing commitment to the principle of diversity. In that spirit, we encourage applications from women, members of ethnic minority groups, and disabled individuals.

Tier I (Senior) Canada Research Chair in Cultural Linguistic

<http://www.mlcs.ca>

CULTURAL LINGUISTICS The Dept of Modern Languages & Cultural Studies at the University of Alberta invites applications for a Tier I (Senior) Canada Research Chair in Cultural Linguistics. The appointment will be at Full Professor or at Senior Associate Professor level and takes effect July 1st, 2004. Modern Languages & Cultural Studies is home to almost forty faculty members who teach and research in eleven language areas in applied linguistics, literary studies, cultural studies, second language acquisition, and folklore studies. The department fosters a unique interdisciplinary atmosphere across disciplines and language areas within the department, and encourages initiatives with colleagues in other departments and faculties. The area of Language Sciences is particularly strong at the University of Alberta. Many new colleagues have been hired into related disciplines such as linguistics, anthropology, cultural studies, psychology, sociology, and others, and several large externally funded research projects are underway. Research in Cultural Linguistics is interdisciplinary by nature. Particular areas of interest include the study of intercultural variations in cognition and communication, the nature of cultural learning and the place in this process of semiotic mediation, and the relation of typological features of languages to the cultural beliefs and practices which motivate them, particularly in situations of cross-cultural interaction or interface. The successful candidate will have an international reputation with an outstanding record of publications in one or more areas of Language Sciences, demonstrated skill as a team builder and leader with vision and energy, the ability to work across traditional disciplinary boundaries, and the capacity to attract graduate student and post-doctoral researchers. The successful candidate will be fluent in at least one of the language areas taught in Modern Languages and Cultural Studies (see website address below). The Tier I Chair will play a leading role in promoting and guiding interdisciplinary research and collaboration, particularly in relation to linguistics and cultural studies. Applications, including resume, all university transcripts, and three letters of recommendation, should be sent directly to Dr. Don Bruce, Chair, Modern Languages & Cultural Studies, Arts 200, University of Alberta, Edmonton, Alberta, Canada, T6G 2E6. E-mail enquiries may be directed to dolores.wohland@ualberta.ca; Tel: (780) 492-1997; Fax: (780) 492-9106. First consideration of applications: March 30, 2003. Applications will be accepted until the position is filled. Please visit our website at www.mlcs.ca for information concerning the department. Information concerning the Canada Research Chair program at the University of Alberta can be found at www.rgo.ualberta.ca/aboutcsrc.html and at www.chairs.gc.ca/english/About/factsheet/index.html. Candidates nominated by the Faculty must be approved by the University, and then forwarded to the Canada Research Chairs Secretariat for final approval. The records arising from this competition will be managed in accordance with provisions of the Alberta Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (FOIPPA). All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority. If suitable Canadian citizens and permanent residents cannot be found, other individuals will be considered. The University of Alberta hires on the basis of merit. We are dedicated to the principle of equity in employment. We welcome diversity and encourage applications from all qualified women and men, including persons with disabilities, members of visible minorities, and Aboriginal persons. [R]
