SUBSCRIPTION INFORMATION

The print version of the Job Information List is published four times during the academic year—in October, December, February, and April. Listings are solicited from two- and four-year colleges and universities for all issues. The cost of an online-only subscription is $38. The cost of a print-only subscription is $50 in the United States and Canada and $70 elsewhere. The cost of a subscription to both online and print versions is $70 in the United States and Canada and $90 elsewhere. The List is sent by first-class mail to subscribers in the United States and Canada and by airmail to all other areas. This April List is the last regularly scheduled issue for 2004–05; however, a special Summer Supplement containing last-minute notices of vacancies will be mailed to all 2004–05 subscribers (both full-year and half-year) on 20 June. Renewal forms for 2005–06 will be included in the supplement.

Further inquiries should be directed to Roy Chustek, Editor, Job Information List, MLA, 26 Broadway, 3rd floor, New York, NY 10004 (646 576-5133; rchustek@mla.org).

ACCESSING THE ELECTRONIC JIL

An online version of the Job Information List is available for searching by individuals who have subscribed to the electronic JIL as well as by job seekers in ADE- and ADFL-member departments. A user name and password are required to search the database. To find your user name and password, follow these directions:

If you are an individual subscriber: If you already have a user name and password, use them. If you do not, you may retrieve them online at the MLA Web site (www.mla.org). Follow the link to the JIL page and click on the appropriate "Search" button; when the password prompt appears, scroll down and enter your e-mail address in the appropriate box and click "E-mail me." Your user name and password will be sent to the e-mail address that you specified when you subscribed. You have the option to change your user name and password whenever you choose by logging in at the JIL page and then clicking the "Subscriber Information" button at the top of the search form and following the instructions for changing your user name and password.

If you are a job seeker in an ADE- or ADFL-member department: Graduate students and faculty members in departments that are current paid members of ADE or ADFL have access to the online JIL as a benefit of their department's ADE or ADFL membership. You must access the JIL through the ADE or ADFL home pages (www.adefl.org; www.adfl.org). Information on how to access the online JIL on this basis is available from your department chair.

INFORMATION FOR CANDIDATES

In This Issue

The April issue contains descriptions of approximately 65 definite and possible vacancies. The April listings are broken down by language as follows: French, 8 definite; Spanish, 27 definite, 4 possible; German, 6 definite; Italian, 4 definite; Slavic, 1 definite; Romance languages, 1 definite, 3 possible; multiple language fields, 4 definite; and linguistics, Middle Eastern and Asian languages, comparative literature, and other language fields, 9 definite.

Guide for Using the Job Information List

US and Canadian Departments

The main body of the List, arranged in alphabetical order by language, contains information on definite or possible vacancies and notices from departments that expect no vacancies but would nevertheless like to keep résumés on file.

Read through this section item by item to see which departments would welcome your letter of application or inquiry at this time. Send letters only to departments expressing an interest in a person with your qualifications. If a notice states that no vacancies are expected but that the department would like to maintain a file of prospective candidates, you must decide in each case whether it is worthwhile to write.

Multiple Language Listings

Notices in which the language field is open, as well as notices of single positions calling for expertise in more than one language (e.g., associate professor of Spanish and German).

Comparative Literature and Linguistics and ESL Sections

Notices in these fields have been separated out from the main body of the issue and placed under the appropriate heading.

General Advice for Candidates

Be sure that your dossier (transcript, letters of recommendation, and other material) is ready to be sent out by your placement bureau to any department that requests it. Prepare and duplicate a one-page vita sheet to enclose with any letters of application or inquiry. In your letter of application, it is probably wise to express a willingness to be interviewed at the department's convenience. Professional meetings provide a convenient opportunity for such interviews.

While it is important to begin to search for a position immediately, you should be aware that hiring goes on all year. Surveys indicate that only about half of all English and foreign language departments have begun recruiting by the end of December and that the majority of departments do not complete the recruiting process until spring, in some cases until summer.

Bear in mind that the candidate who has not limited his or her search for a new position to a particular geographical area or kind of institution is most likely to find a position. Do not discount the small colleges where one often has the opportunity to teach a wide selection of courses to students of varied backgrounds.

Notice on Tenure Policies

The Modern Language Association recommends that department administrators and their representatives inform candidates before or during the interview about prospects for tenure in the specific position under consideration and about the tenure policies and practices in their departments and institutions. If the information is not offered, candidates are urged to inquire about these policies.

Acknowledgment of Applications

Acting on a recommendation from the MLA Delegate Assembly, the MLA Executive Council has adopted a policy calling for departments to acknowledge all applications for announced positions either by letter or by self-addressed postcards provided by applicants.

MLA Policy on the Reimbursement of Job Seekers

The following policies were recommended by the Delegate Assembly in December 1999 and approved by the MLA Executive Council in February 2000.

It is MLA policy that:

- Departments that require that job applicants send their application materials by express carrier reimburse those applicants for the cost of such shipment; and
- Departments that require multiple copies of writing samples and other application materials from job applicants reimburse applicants for the cost of duplicating their writing samples and other materials; and
- Departments that require books will return them to the applicant; and
- Departments that invite job applicants for on-campus interviews reimburse those applicants who accept such invitations for the costs of travel and accommodations incurred when visiting the campus for interviews.

LIST OF ADMINISTRATIONS CENSURED

BY THE AMERICAN ASSOCIATION OF UNIVERSITY PROFESSORS

*Note: The following list and accompanying explanatory note are reprinted from Academe by permission of the American Association of University Professors and in accordance with the action of the MLA Delegate Assembly.*

Investigations by the American Association of University Professors of the administrations of the institutions listed below show that, as evidenced by a past violation, they are not observing the generally recognized principles of academic freedom and tenure endorsed by this Association, the Association of American Colleges and Universities, and more than 150 other professional and educational organizations. The 1940 Statement of Principles on Academic Freedom and Tenure may be found in the May-June 1990 issue of Academe.

This list is published for the purpose of informing Association members, the profession at large, and the public that unsatisfactory conditions of academic freedom and tenure have been found to prevail at these institutions. Names are placed on or removed from this censure list by vote of the Association's Annual Meeting.

Placing the name of an institution on this list does not mean that censure is visited either upon the whole of the institution or upon the faculty, but specifically upon its present administration. The term "administration" includes the administrative officers and the governing board of the institution. This censure does not affect the eligibility of nonmembers for membership in the Association, nor does it affect the individual rights of members at the institution in question.

Members of the Association have often considered it to be their duty, in order to indicate their support of the principles violated, to refrain from accepting appointment to an institution so long as it remains on the censure list. Since circumstances differ widely from case to case, the Association does not assert that such an unqualified obligation exists for its members; it does urge that, before accepting appointments, they seek information on present conditions of academic freedom and tenure from the Association's Washington office and prospective departmental colleagues. The Association leaves it to the discretion of the individual, possessed of the facts, to make the proper decision.

The censured administrations, with dates of censuring, are listed below. Reports were published as indicated by the Bulletin or Academe citations in parentheses following each listing. Reference should also be made to "Developments Relating to Censure by the Association" and to the "Report of Committee A," each of which appears annually in Academe.

Klaus W. Jonas Professor of German Studies

The Department of Germanic Languages and Literature at the University of Pittsburgh is pleased to announce the establishment of a newly endowed chair to honor a distinguished colleague whose dedicated service to the university and department extended from 1957 until 1988. We are seeking a scholar and teacher of international reputation at the full professorial rank in the field of German Film and Cultural Studies to become the first holder of the Klaus W. Jonas Chair beginning in September, 2005, pending budgetary approval. The salary will be commensurate with the position. In addition to a distinguished record of publication and teaching in German film, candidates must have demonstrated strengths within such related fields as German literature and culture or German intellectual history from the 18th century to the present. Crucial in the selection process will be the ability to sustain the kinds of significant links that our department has established over the years with interdisciplinary programs at the university (including Film Studies, Cultural Studies, West European Studies, and/or Jewish Studies) as well as with cognate departments (for example, French and Italian, History of Art and Architecture, Philosophy). In addition, demonstrated successes in undergraduate and graduate teaching, as well as in supervising Honor's, M.A., and Ph.D. research, and a willingness to participate in the intellectual life of the German Department are necessary. The search for the endowed chair will continue until the position is filled, but candidates who are interested in meeting representatives of the department at the 2004 MLA convention should submit cover letters and CV's to Professor Clark Muenzer, Department of Germanic Languages and Literature, 1409 CL, University of Pittsburgh, Pittsburgh, PA 15260 by December 1st, 2004. The University of Pittsburgh is an Affirmative Action, Equal Opportunity Employer. Women and members of minority groups under-represented in academia are especially encouraged to apply. [R]

Intl & Second Lang Studies Div, 2801 S University Avenue Little Rock AR 72204

Division Director

2390

<http://www.disls.ualr.edu>

The Division of International and Second Language Studies (DISLS) at the University of Arkansas at Little Rock seeks a Director for its programs in Foreign Languages, Intensive English Language, Study Abroad, and International Student Services to assume responsibilities on July 1, 2005. The ideal candidate will build upon the leadership that the Division already has at the state, regional, and national levels in order to enhance the vision and goals of the unit within a system of shared governance. The Division of International and Second Language Studies offers majors and minors in French, German Studies, and Spanish as well as the ESL endorsement, second language teacher education, and a growing Master of Arts Degree with tracks in Second Language Acquisition and Pedagogy, and in Spanish. The Intensive English Language Program offers English as a second language for international students. The International Student Services office assists international students from across the campus with visa and immigration compliance and undergraduate credential evaluation. The Study Abroad office provides coordination for UALR programs in Austria, France, Mexico, Spain, and other worldwide locations. The Division enjoys a three-semester foreign language requirement. Responsibilities: The successful candidate will:—demonstrate a command of administrative skills;—provide creative, collaborative leadership within the department and among other units on campus;—appreciate the diverse talents of the faculty and enhance opportunities for professional development;—oversee budget activities and external funding opportunities;—encourage excellence in teaching, scholarship, and service; and—design recruitment, retention and advisement strategies for attracting and assisting students. Qualifications: This is a twelve-month, tenure-track position with expectations of undergraduate and/or graduate teaching. A PhD in a second language is required.

Credentials appropriate for the appointment at the Associate or Full Professor level are expected. The successful candidate should demonstrate strong communication skills for working with students, faculty, staff, and university administration and have experience with educational technology. Located in the state capital, the cultural and financial center of the state, the University of Arkansas at Little Rock is a public, metropolitan university of approximately 12,000 students of which 29% are from under-represented groups. Almost 18% are enrolled in graduate programs, the fastest growing area in the University. The University, the second largest campus of the University of Arkansas System, is a Carnegie Doctoral/Research Intensive institution, which embraces the breadth of scholarship as defined by Ernest Boyer. UALR is a dynamic partner in relating to a growing Hispanic community and, as a metropolitan institution, fundamentally values discipline-based public service and a relationship of engagement between the university and its external community. Applications: Please send a cover letter, c.v., a personal statement that articulates a philosophy of leadership, two current letters of recommendation and contact information (including e-mail) for four additional references to: Rosalie Cheatham, Chair, DISLS Director Search Committee, Division of International and Second Language Studies, University of Arkansas at Little Rock, 2801 South University Avenue, Little Rock, AR 72204.
