Subscription Information

The print version of the Job Information List is published four times during the academic year—in October, December, February, and April. Listings are solicited from two- and four-year colleges and universities for all issues. The List is sent by first-class mail to subscribers in the United States and Canada and by airmail to all other areas; delivery should be shortly after the publication dates listed below. Please note, however, that these are projected dates only and are subject to change without notice. A subscription form is available at www.mla.org.

February issue 15 February 2008
April issue 14 April 2008

Further inquiries should be directed to Roy Chustek, Editor, Job Information List, MLA, 26 Broadway, 3rd floor, New York, NY 10004 (646 576-5133; rchustek@mla.org).
ACCESSING THE ELECTRONIC JIL

All access to search the online version of the Job Information List is now through membership in either the Association of Departments of English (ADE) or the Association of Departments of Foreign Languages (ADFL).

Access to search the JIL is free to graduate students and faculty members in departments that are members of the ADE or the ADFL. If your department is a member, it can provide you with the department ID and password to log in at the ADE or ADFL Web site. When you log in, you will be asked to create your own personal login information for searching the JIL at that site.

MLA members in ADE- and ADFL-member departments can also log in to search the JIL at the MLA Web site with their MLA-member user name and password. No additional user name or password is required.

Individuals without an academic affiliation or whose departments are not currently members of the ADE or the ADFL can access the JIL by becoming affiliate members of the ADE or the ADFL. Like students and faculty members in ADE- and ADFL-member departments, ADE and ADFL affiliate members receive access to the online archive of the ADE or the ADFL Bulletins as well as rights to search the JIL database over the Internet. (Print versions of the JIL are no longer available to individuals.) Dues for affiliate memberships are $40 for MLA members and $65 for nonmembers and are refundable on request to those whose departments become members of the ADE or the ADFL within the membership period, which runs from September to August. Affiliate memberships must be purchased online with a credit card and are for the use of a single individual only.
Information for Candidates

In This Issue

The February issue contains descriptions of approximately 225 definite and possible vacancies. The February listings are broken down by language as follows: French, 20 definite; Spanish, 87 definite, 9 possible; German, 12 definite; Italian, 13 definite; Slavic, 2 definite; Romance languages, 2 definite; multiple language fields, 14 definite, 1 possible; and linguistics, Middle Eastern and Asian languages, comparative literature, and other language fields, 60 definite.

Guide for Using the Job Information List

US and Canadian Departments

The main body of the List, arranged in alphabetical order by language, contains information on definite or possible vacancies and notices from departments that expect no vacancies but would nevertheless like to keep résumés on file.

Read through this section item by item to see which departments would welcome your letter of application or inquiry at this time. Send letters only to departments expressing an interest in a person with your qualifications. If a notice states that no vacancies are expected but that the department would like to maintain a file of prospective candidates, you must decide in each case whether it is worthwhile to write.

Multiple Language Listings

Notices in which the language field is open, as well as notices of single positions calling for expertise in more than one language (e.g., associate professor of Spanish and German).

Comparative Literature and Linguistics and ESL Sections

Notices in these fields have been separated from the main body of the issue and placed under the appropriate heading.

General Advice for Candidates

Be sure that your dossier (transcript, letters of recommendation, and other material) is ready to be sent out by your placement bureau to any department that requests it. Prepare and duplicate a one-page vita to enclose with any letters of application or inquiry. In your letter of application, it is probably wise to express a willingness to be interviewed at the department’s convenience. Professional meetings provide a convenient opportunity for such interviews.

While it is important to begin to search for a position immediately, you should be aware that hiring goes on all year. Surveys indicate that only about half of all English and foreign language departments have begun recruiting by the end of December and that the majority of departments do not complete the recruiting process until spring, in some cases until summer.

Bear in mind that the candidate who has not limited his or her search for a new position to a particular geographic area or kind of institution is most likely to find a position. Do not discount the small colleges, where one often has the opportunity to teach a wide selection of courses to students of varied backgrounds.

Notice on Tenure Policies

The Modern Language Association recommends that department administrators and their representatives inform candidates before or during the interview about prospects for tenure in the specific position under consideration and about the tenure policies and practices in their departments and institutions. If the information is not offered, candidates are urged to inquire about these policies.

Acknowledgment of Applications

Acting on a recommendation from the MLA Delegate Assembly, the MLA Executive Council has adopted a policy calling for departments to acknowledge all applications for announced positions either by letter or by self-addressed postcards provided by applicants.

MLA Policy on the Reimbursement of Job Seekers

The following policies were recommended by the Delegate Assembly in December 1999 and approved by the MLA Executive Council in February 2000.

It is MLA policy that:

• Departments that require that job applicants send their application materials by express carrier reimburse those applicants for the cost of such shipment; and

• Departments that require multiple copies of writing samples and other application materials from job applicants reimburse applicants for the cost of duplicating their writing samples and other materials; and

• Departments that require books will return them to the applicant; and

• Departments that invite job applicants for on-campus interviews reimburse those applicants who accept such invitations for the costs of travel and accommodations incurred when visiting the campus for interviews.
List of Administrations Censured by the American Association of University Professors

Note: The following list and accompanying explanatory note are reprinted from Academe by permission of the American Association of University Professors and in accordance with the action of the MLA Delegate Assembly.

Investigations by the American Association of University Professors of the administrations of the institutions listed below show that, as evidenced by a past violation, they are not observing the generally recognized principles of academic freedom and tenure endorsed by this Association, the Association of American Colleges and Universities, and more than 150 other professional and educational organizations. The 1940 Statement of Principles on Academic Freedom and Tenure may be found in the May–June 1990 issue of Academe.

This list is published for the purpose of informing Association members, the profession at large, and the public that unsatisfactory conditions of academic freedom and tenure have been found to prevail at these institutions. Names are placed on or removed from this censure list by vote of the Association’s Annual Meeting.

Placing the name of an institution on this list does not mean that censure is visited either upon the whole of the institution or upon the faculty, but specifically upon its present administration. The term “administration” includes the administrative officers and the governing board of the institution. This censure does not affect the eligibility of nonmembers for membership in the Association, nor does it affect the individual rights of members at the institution in question.

Members of the Association have often considered it to be their duty, in order to indicate their support of the principles violated, to refrain from accepting appointment to an institution so long as it remains on the censure list. Since circumstances differ widely from case to case, the Association does not assert that such an unqualified obligation exists for its members; it does urge that, before accepting appointments, they seek information on present conditions of academic freedom and tenure from the Association’s Washington office and prospective departmental colleagues. The Association leaves it to the discretion of the individual, possessed of the facts, to make the proper decision.

The censured administrations, with dates of censuring, are listed below. Reports were published as indicated by the Bulletin or Academe citations in parentheses following each listing. Reference should also be made to “Developments Relating to Censure by the Association” and to the “Report of Committee A,” each of which appears annually in Academe.

U of British Columbia Okanagan
Critical Studies, 3333 University Way Kelowna BC V1V 1V7 Canada
Reichwald Professorship in Germanic Studies 2423
http://web.ubc.ca/okanagan/creativeandcritical/welcome.html
Applications are sought from senior German scholars to fill a new endowed professorship. The successful candidate will be expected to teach undergraduate German language courses and to bring research and teaching expertise in German Cultural Studies, or German Film and Media Studies, or Film and Media Production.

The Department of Critical Studies in the Faculty of Critical and Creative Studies at UBC Okanagan includes teaching and research in Art History, Cultural Studies, and Languages and Literatures in English, French, German, Japanese and Spanish. UBC Okanagan recognizes the value of interdisciplinarity in teaching and research and encourages and supports the dialogue between programmes and disciplines (including those in the Department of Critical Studies i.e., creative writing, devised theatre and visual arts). In the light of this, the Reichwald Professorship need not be occupied by a scholar immersed in the traditional disciplinary pairing of German language and literature. While we will certainly consider such individuals, we are equally interested in scholars capable of pairing German language and some other aspect of the Faculty’s interests, like cultural studies or film, as expressed in German culture. One of the expectations of this appointment will be some form of engagement with the local community around German and German-Canadian cultural themes. [R]

American University in Cairo
Founded in 1919, AUC’s campus is currently located in Cairo, Egypt, but will be moving to a new, state-of-the-art campus in New Cairo beginning Fall Semester, 2008. (see the New Campus website at http://www.aucegypt.edu/aboutauc/CampusandFacilities/NewCampus/Pages/default.aspx). AUC’s degree programs are accredited by the Commission on Higher Education of the Middle States Association of Colleges and Schools; Engineering programs are accredited by ABET and the Management program is accredited by AACSB. For more information visit our website at www.aucegypt.edu.

Film Historian/Theorist. The interdisciplinary Department of Performing and Visual Arts anticipates a vacancy for a Film Historian/Theorist. The successful candidate will teach the introductory film and selected courses in film, film/video production, and other areas within his/her special field of expertise, as well as organize campus film events, occasionally in conjunction with community organizations and/or international festivals. Position # Film-1–08. Ph.D. required. It is a tenure track position, after an initial two-year (renewable) contract. Interest in Third World cinema and significant production experience are a plus. The film specialist will work closely with the dynamic faculty in theatre, art, and music to craft premier academic and performance programs. Priority will be given to applications received by December 15, 2007. One–two or three–year appointments, subject to mutual agreement will begin September 2008. Renewal of an appointment depends upon institutional needs and/or the appointee’s performance.

Salary and rank are according to scale based on qualifications and professional experience. For expatriates, benefits include housing, annual round-trip air travel for appointee and qualifying dependents, plus schooling for the equivalent of up to two children at Cairo American College. In view of AUC’s protocol agreement with the Egyptian government, which requires specific proportions of Egyptian, U.S., and third-country citizen faculty, at this time preference will be given to qualified applicants who are U.S. citizens.

Simon Fraser University seeks a Director for its new programs in World Literature, beginning July 1, 2008. The major, minor, and honors programs in World Literature are comparative with a focus on intercultural exchange. MA and PhD programs in World Literature may be considered for development at SFU Surrey in the future.

Excellence in research and teaching and extraordinary diversity distinguish Simon Fraser University as a Canadian and global university. The diversity of the student body at the Universitys three closely connected urban campuses in Surrey, Burnaby and Vancouver reflects the multiculturalism of Vancouvers metropolitan region.

The appointment will be at the rank of Associate or Full Professor. While tenure-track faculty at SFU have a 2/2 teaching load and teach in two of the Universitys three trimesters, program directors are offered one course in each teaching semester for administrative responsibilities.

Applicants for this position must hold a doctoral degree with a comparative focus, have expertise in two linguistic, literary and cultural traditions, and be proficient in two languages other than English. Applications are encouraged from scholars with cross cultural research and/or teaching interests, such as east/west or north/south exchange. Appointments will be made commensurate with experience in research, teaching, and administration.

Applicants should submit a detailed letter of application that addresses current and future interests in research and teaching as well as administrative philosophy and experience. The letter must be accompanied by a curriculum vitae and two examples of peer-reviewed publications. Please also include a teaching dossier with a short statement of teaching philosophy, three sample syllabi, and evidence of excellence in teaching. If applicable, include a summary of your experience in curricular development, in departmental or university governance, and in mentoring new scholars. Applicants must also arrange for three letters of reference to be sent directly to Dr. Heather Dawkins at the address below.

The deadline for applications is February 15, 2008 or until the positions are filled.

All materials should be sent to: Dr. Heather Dawkins, Associate Dean, Faculty of Arts and Social Sciences, Simon Fraser University, Central City 250-13450 102nd Avenue, Surrey, BC, V3T 0A3 Canada

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority. Simon Fraser University is committed to the principle of equity in employment and offers equal employment opportunities to qualified applicants. The position is subject to final budgetary approval.

Under the authority of the University Act, personal information that is required by the University for academic appointment competitions will be collected. For further details see the Collection Notice at http://www.sfu.ca/vpacademic/Faculty_Openings/Collection_Notice.html. [R]

Philadelphia PA 19104
Director-Penn Language Center
http://jobs.hr.upenn.edu/applicants/Central?quickFind=187016

The School of Arts and Sciences (SAS) is the liberal arts core of the University of Pennsylvania. SAS is at the foundation of the scholarly excellence that has established Penn as one of the worlds leading research universities. Ten of its 26 departments are ranked in the top ten nationally for faculty distinction according to the National Research Council, and SAS faculty are regularly recognized with academias highest honors, including in recent years the National Medal of Science, the MacArthur Fellowship, the Pulitzer Prize, and the Nobel Prize. SAS is the academic home to over half of Penns students and provides 60 percent of the courses taken by students in Penns undergraduate professional schools. The School of Arts and Sciences occupies over one million square feet of space in 39 buildings that range in age from two to 249 years. SAS seeks a Director to coordinate the language program of the Penn Language Center (PLC). The PLC offers instruction in approximately forty less-commonly taught languages, coordinating language programs and training for language teachers. The PLC also provides leadership and training in the use of new technologies in language instruction for all language teachers in the School. In partnership with faculty, the PLC is a center for externally-funded programs in language-related research projects. Duties: Hire, train, and evaluate PLC teachers; plan curricula; consult with departments and other schools within the University; and conduct workshops for language teachers. Design programs in language pedagogy and second language acquisition using new technologies for teachers in the PLC and other languages and literatures departments. Oversee the PLC staff and budget. This is a Limited Service position which means that although this is an ongoing position the incumbent works 10 out of 12 months in a year. Qualifications: Ph.D. in Applied Linguistics, Second Language Acquisition, or a language-related discipline. Experience as a language coordinator. Experience in the development and implementation of language development, advocacy of the departments interests within the university, and budgetary management. The chair will be expected to maintain an active scholarly agenda and will have a reduced teaching load. The university is currently developing an academic initiative focused on Global Studies and the Modern Language Department will play a significant role in that effort. The salary is competitive and commensurate with qualifications.

The Department offers accredited BA programs in French and Spanish, as well as beginning through advanced course work in Arabic, Chinese, German, Italian, Latin, Russian, and Japanese. The department offers a Master’s degree in Spanish as well as summer programs in France and Spain. It is the recipient of the prestigious ACE Award (American Council on Education) for foreign language teaching. The department has a strong commitment to the development of oral proficiency, with half of its full-time faculty being ACFL-OPI certified testers. Departmental faculty works in close cooperation with the universitys College of Education in foreign language certification. The department has 12 full-time and approximately 25 part-time faculty members. See departments web site for further information—http://www.uakron.edu/modlang/. The University of Akron campus is a vibrant community within metropolitan Akron. There are approximately 24,000 students representing 44 U.S. states and 79 foreign countries from culturally diverse groups and a broad economic spectrum.

Interested individuals should send a letter of application outlining their qualifications and experience, a curriculum vitae, and the names of at least four professional references to: Robert B. Kent, Search Committee Chair, Department of Modern Languages, University of Akron, Akron, OH 44325-1907. Phone (330)-972-7486, email rkent@uakron.edu. Electronic applications will be accepted. Review of applications will continue until the position is filled.

The University of Akron is committed to a policy of Equal Employment Opportunity and to the principles of affirmative action in accordance with state and federal laws.

Significant experience in supervising faculty and in effectively coordinating with multiple academic units.

Experience with multi-section university-level language development courses.

Aptitude for consultative consensus building among faculty with regard to curricular and co-curricular programs.

Experience with two or more of the following a must: writing-across-the-curriculum programs, effective assessment protocols, writing in the disciplines, English Centers, ESL students, speech labs.

Experience with multi-lingual environments or international contexts a plus.

The Benefits

The University’s benefits package is highly attractive, with competitive salaries free of tax in the United Arab Emirates, housing, a furniture allowance, annual vacation airline tickets for the employee and immediate family, educational subsidies for children and subsidized healthcare for the employee.

To Apply

Visit our Web site at www.zu.ac.ae. In addition to completing the online application form, attach one document containing a letter of application, a current CV, the names and contact details of three referees, a statement of management philosophy and a statement of scholarly and creative interests.

The review of applications will begin on December 6 and will continue until the position is filled. Although it is presumed that the successful candidate will take up the position in August 2008, we do have some flexibility in the start date.

Zayed U

Human Resources, Academic City/Al Ruwayyah PO Box 19282 Dubai United Arab Emirates

Chair-Humanities and Social Sciences 2300
http://www.zu.ac.ae

Zayed University, a premier university in the United Arab Emirates, is an innovative institution based on an international model of higher education. With 600 faculty and staff serving 3,500 students across two main campuses—as well as satellite locations in Abu Dhabi and Dubai, the University prepares graduates to become leaders in government, business, civil society, and family life. The University expects its graduates to be fully bilingual in English and Arabic, proficient in the use of computing technology, and strong in quantitative and research skills. The language of business and instruction at the University is English.

Zayed University is fully accredited in the U.A.E. and is a candidate for accreditation with the Middle States Commission on Higher Education in the U.S.A.

The Opportunity

The Chair will provide vision and leadership for a vibrant, multidisciplinary department which is being formed from a merger of the former departments of English Language and Literature and Social Sciences. The Chair will assume operational responsibility for the department on the Abu Dhabi and the Dubai campuses, provide academic leadership to departmental faculty, and help set the intellectual tone in the departments emerging concentrations, such as International Affairs, and Culture and Society. As an academic administrator, the Chair will be involved in the strategic planning for the department, and will serve as part of the Deans leadership team in the College. Other responsibilities will include the recruitment and mentoring of faculty, and the promotion of faculty research and curriculum development. The department and the University are poised to offer graduate programs and the Chair will be expected to actively lead the development and delivery of graduate curricula. The normal term for the Chair is three years but this can be renewed; teaching load is of one course per semester.

The Requirements

Aptitude for consultative consensus building among faculty with regard to curricular and co-curricular programs.

Experience with multi-section university-level language development courses.

Aptitude for consultative consensus building among faculty with regard to curricular and co-curricular programs.
A Ph.D. degree in a departmental discipline (Anthropology, Sociology, Economics, Political Science, Cultural Geography, History, Literatures in English, Comparative Literature, Socio-Linguistics, World Philosophies, or any other Humanities Discipline.)

Substantial experience in higher education administration and a proven record of academic leadership.

The ability to combine insights and approaches from the social sciences and humanities in majors and minors that are responsive to the local cultural context and the emergent professional interests of the students.

A successful record in research and baccalaureate-level teaching.

Experience mentoring and supervising faculty.

A strong interest in innovative approaches to instruction, including the incorporation of educational technology in the learning environment.

An understanding of and commitment to a learning outcomes-based program.

A commitment to the University's General Education program which is the core of every student's educational experience.

The Benefits

The University's benefits package is highly attractive, with competitive salaries free of tax in the United Arab Emirates, housing, a furniture allowance, annual vacation airline tickets for the employee and immediate family, educational subsidies for children and subsidized healthcare for the employee.

To Apply

Visit our Web site at www.zu.ac.ae. In addition to completing the online application form, attach one document containing a letter of application, a current CV, the names and contact details of three referees, a statement of teaching philosophy and a statement of scholarly and creative interests (particularly as they might apply to the socio-political and educational imperatives of the Middle East).

Second Language Assessment 2173
http://www.casl.umd.edu
The University of Maryland Center for Advanced Study of Language (CASL), established in 2003, is the nation’s 10th university-affiliated research center. Its mission is to conduct state-of-the-science research that results in improved performance on language tasks relevant to the work of government language professionals. Work done at the center focuses on improving knowledge of less commonly taught languages, enhancing the acquisition and maintenance of foreign language capability by government professionals (especially at the advanced levels), advancing the capacity to use foreign language skills in a wide variety of government professions and situations and improving the quality of human language technology.

CASL is seeking to expand its research team in the area of Second Language Assessment. CASL invites applications for a research scientist to work in CASL’s interdisciplinary research program on the advanced language learner, as well as to contribute language assessment expertise across a range of research projects. CASL seeks a scholar with a specialization in second language assessment with a strong psychometric background and a focus on innovative measurement methods. The incumbent will work with a multidisciplinary team on research projects that enable government employees especially foreign language professionals to improve their performance. Candidates must have an earned Ph.D. in Second Language Assessment or the equivalent, a record of research achievement, and a strong record of publication. The center is seeking people who will play a leading role in the strategic direction of CASL and will participate in multiple research projects in their field. Candidates’ research and publications should demonstrate the ability to tackle complex, interdisciplinary research and to work collaboratively with a range of institutions and researchers. Appointments to CASL are as a research faculty member of the University of Maryland. Exceptional candidates with national standing may be considered for tenure-track appointments on a limited, case-by-case basis, and subject to availability of tenure lines in relevant departments. Candidates must hold U.S. citizenship and be willing to obtain a security clearance.

“Cultures in Transnational Perspective”
Call for Applications
Deadline: February 1, 2008

The division of humanities at the University of California, Los Angeles, will appoint four Andrew W. Mellon Postdoctoral Fellows for a 2-year tenure beginning in the fall of 2008. Fellows must have earned their doctoral degree no earlier than January 2002 and no later than June 2008. The Mellon Fellowship provides a stipend of $50,000 a year, standard fringe benefits, a one-time moving allowance of $1,500, plus a small research budget of $2,000. All Fellows will be housed in relevant home departments for which they teach two courses each year. They are required to be in residence and to participate in the monthly Mellon Fellows Seminars and annual Mellon Conference, as well as the on-going intellectual life of their home departments. Fellows will also write a progress report due on June 15th of each year of residence.

Designed to explore the emerging field of Transnational Studies, the aim of the Mellon Program at UCLA is to broaden the study of minority cultures from its national focus to global and comparative perspectives. We seek innovative scholarship that explores minority cultures as major components of world culture and history, generated by immigrant and minority writers, artists, filmmakers, playwrights, and musicians residing in metropolitan centers across the world and thereby reshaping the canons of literature, art, and music in their respective countries.

There is no application form. Applicants should send a cover letter, a description (no more than 1500 words) of the scholarly project relevant to the program, a CV, and three letters of recommendation by February 1, 2008, to: Mellon Postdoctoral Fellowships in the Humanities at UCLA, Royce Humanities Group, 212 Royce Hall, UCLA, Los Angeles, CA 90095.
