Spring 2017 Newsletter Is Now Available!
The spring issue of the Newsletter features a column on the MLA's advocacy efforts by Executive Director Rosemary G. Feal and reflections on interdisciplinary study by President Diana Taylor. Members can access the Newsletter online and request a print copy.

Share Your Thoughts on Two Resolutions
Members may comment on two resolutions approved by the Delegate Assembly before they are opened to a vote by eligible members. Post your comments, or read a council statement about the resolution process.

Call to Expand Language Education
A new report from the American Academy of Arts and Sciences' Commission on Language Learning examines language study in the United States and calls for language education to be treated "as a persistent national need."

MLA News Digest
16 March 2017

Publication Spotlight
Teaching H.D.
For Women's History Month, find fresh approaches to teaching H.D.'s poetry and prose works.

Calls
CFP: International Congress of Literature and Hispanic Studies, due 24 Mar.
CFP: American Folklore Society annual meeting, due 31 Mar.
CFP: Special issue on ideological transparency, for the journal Pedagogy, due 7 Apr.
CFP: Open Cultural Studies journal, due 30 June
CFP: Journal of Antipoetry Studies / Revista de estudios antipoéticos, due 30 June
Suggest Cultural Excursions for MLA 2018
Have a great idea for a cultural excursion in New York? Make a suggestion or share your preferences with the MLA’s convention staff.

College Students: Intern at the MLA This Summer!
Know a college student interested in working in the nonprofit sector? The MLA is hiring summer interns in communications, fund-raising, and more.

Apply for an MLA Bibliography Fellowship
There is still time to apply for a fellowship from the MLA Bibliography. Help index articles to get free training and waived convention fees!

Resources

The MLA Style Center  Humanities Commons  Member Discounts  Career Center

Member News

Carol Christ Nominated as Chancellor at UC Berkeley  Two Members Named Frederick Burkhardt Fellows  Members Take Part in Humanities Advocacy Day

News

Higher Ed Leaders Respond to DeVos  How the Travel Ban May Cost Colleges  Universities on New Immigration Order  Grad Students Unionize at Loyola