SUBSCRIPTION INFORMATION

The print version of the Job Information List is published four times during the academic year—in October, December, February, and April. Listings are solicited from two- and four-year colleges and universities for all issues. The cost of an online-only subscription is $35. The cost of a print-only subscription is $45 in the United States and Canada and $70 elsewhere. The cost of a subscription to both online and print versions is $65 in the United States and Canada and $90 elsewhere. The List is sent by first-class mail to subscribers in the United States and Canada and by airmail to all other areas; delivery should be shortly after the publication dates listed below. Please note, however, that these are projected dates only and are subject to change without notice. A subscription form is available at www.mla.org.

February issue 15 February 2002

April issue 15 April 2002

Further inquiries should be directed to Roy Chustek, Editor, Job Information List, MLA, 26 Broadway, New York, NY 10004 (646 576-5133; rchustek@mla.org).

ACCESSING THE ELECTRONIC JIL

An online version of the Job Information List is available for searching by individuals who have subscribed to the electronic JIL as well as by job seekers in ADE- and ADFL-member departments. A user name and password are required to search the database. To find your user name and password, follow these directions:

If you are an individual subscriber: If you already have a user name and password, use them. If you do not, you may retrieve them online at the MLA Web site (www.mla.org). Follow the link to the JIL page and click on the appropriate "Search" button; when the password prompt appears, scroll down and enter your e-mail address in the appropriate box and click "E-mail me." Your user name and password will be sent to the e-mail address that you specified when you subscribed. You have the option to change your user name and password whenever you choose by logging in at the JIL page and then clicking the "Subscriber Information" button at the top of the search form and following the instructions for changing your user name and password.

If you are a job seeker in an ADE- or ADFL-member department: Graduate students and faculty members in departments that are current paid members of ADE or ADFL have access to the online JIL as a benefit of their department's ADE or ADFL membership. You must access the JIL through the ADE or ADFL home pages (www.ade.org; www.adfl.org). Information on how to access the online JIL on this basis is available from your department chair.

INFORMATION FOR CANDIDATES

In This Issue

The February issue contains descriptions of approximately 170 definite and possible vacancies. The listings are broken down by language as follows: French, 14 definite; Spanish, 64 definite, 1 possible; German, 14 definite; Italian, 6 definite; Slavic, 3 definite, 2 possible; Romance languages, 14 definite; multiple language fields, 4 definite; and linguistics, Middle Eastern and Asian languages, comparative literature, and other language fields, 48 definite.

Guide for Using the Job Information List

US and Canadian Departments

The main body of the List, arranged in alphabetical order by language, contains information on definite or possible vacancies and notices from departments that expect no vacancies but would nevertheless like to keep résumés on file.

Read through this section item by item to see which departments would welcome your letter of application or inquiry at this time. Send letters only to departments expressing an interest in a person with your qualifications. If a notice states that no vacancies are expected but that the department would like to maintain a file of prospective candidates, you must decide in each case whether it is worthwhile to write.

Multiple Language Listings

Notices in which the language field is open, as well as notices of single positions calling for expertise in more than one language (e.g., associate professor of Spanish and German).

Comparative Literature and Linguistics and ESL Sections

Notices in these fields have been separated out from the main body of the issue and placed under the appropriate heading.

General Advice for Candidates

Be sure that your dossier (transcript, letters of recommendation, and other material) is ready to be sent out by your placement bureau to any department that requests it. Prepare and duplicate a one-page vita sheet to enclose with any letters of application or inquiry. In your letter of application, it is probably wise to express a willingness to be interviewed at the department's convenience. Professional meetings provide a convenient opportunity for such interviews (see MLA convention information on p. iii).

While it is important to begin to search for a position immediately, you should be aware that hiring goes on all year. Surveys indicate that only about half of all English and foreign language departments have begun recruiting by the end of December and that the majority of departments do not complete the recruiting process until spring, in some cases until summer.

Bear in mind that the candidate who has not limited his or her search for a new position to a particular geographical area or kind of institution is most likely to find a position. Do not discount the small colleges where one often has the opportunity to teach a wide selection of courses to students of varied backgrounds.

Notice on Tenure Policies

The Modern Language Association recommends that department administrators and their representatives inform candidates before or during the interview about prospects for tenure in the specific position under consideration and about the tenure policies and practices in their departments and institutions. If the information is not offered, candidates are urged to inquire about these policies.

Acknowledgment of Applications

Acting on a recommendation from the MLA Delegate Assembly, the MLA Executive Council has adopted a policy calling for departments to acknowledge all applications for announced positions either by letter or by self-addressed postcards provided by applicants.

MLA Policy on the Reimbursement of Job Seekers

The following policies were recommended by the Delegate Assembly in December 1999 and approved by the MLA Executive Council in February 2000.

It is MLA policy that:

- Departments that require that job applicants send their application materials by express carrier reimburse those applicants for the cost of such shipment; and
- Departments that require multiple copies of writing samples and other application materials from job applicants reimburse applicants for the cost of duplicating their writing samples and other materials; and
- Departments that require books will return them to the applicant; and
- Departments that invite job applicants for on-campus interviews reimburse those applicants who accept such invitations for the costs of travel and accommodations incurred when visiting the campus for interviews.

MLA Guide to the Job Search

The MLA Guide to the Job Search (New York: MLA, 1997) contains much useful information and advice to assist candidates in organizing their job searches confidently and competently. Copies of the Guide are available to JIL subscribers for $5.00 and no shipping and handling charge. The regular price of the Guide is $10.00 ($8.00 for MLA members), plus $3.00 for shipping and handling. To order a copy, write, enclosing a check, to MLA Member and Customer Services, 26 Broadway, 3rd floor, New York, NY 10004-1789.

LIST OF ADMINISTRATIONS CENSURED

BY THE AMERICAN ASSOCIATION OF UNIVERSITY PROFESSORS

*Note: The following list and accompanying explanatory note are reprinted from Academe by permission of the American Association of University Professors and in accordance with the action of the MLA Delegate Assembly.*

Investigations by the American Association of University Professors of the administrations of the institutions listed below show that, as evidenced by a past violation, they are not observing the generally recognized principles of academic freedom and tenure endorsed by this Association, the Association of American Colleges and Universities, and more than 150 other professional and educational organizations. The 1940 Statement of Principles on Academic Freedom and Tenure may be found in the May-June 1990 issue of Academe.

This list is published for the purpose of informing Association members, the profession at large, and the public that unsatisfactory conditions of academic freedom and tenure have been found to prevail at these institutions. Names are placed on or removed from this censure list by vote of the Association's Annual Meeting.

Placing the name of an institution on this list does not mean that censure is visited either upon the whole of the institution or upon the faculty, but specifically upon its present administration. The term "administration" includes the administrative officers and the governing board of the institution. This censure does not affect the eligibility of nonmembers for membership in the Association, nor does it affect the individual rights of members at the institution in question.

Members of the Association have often considered it to be their duty, in order to indicate their support of the principles violated, to refrain from accepting appointment to an institution so long as it remains on the censure list. Since circumstances differ widely from case to case, the Association does not assert that such an unqualified obligation exists for its members; it does urge that, before accepting appointments, they seek information on present conditions of academic freedom and tenure from the Association's Washington office and prospective departmental colleagues. The Association leaves it to the discretion of the individual, possessed of the facts, to make the proper decision.

The censured administrations, with dates of censuring, are listed below. Reports were published as indicated by the Bulletin or Academe citations in parentheses following each listing. Reference should also be made to "Developments Relating to Censure by the Association" and to the "Report of Committee A," each of which appears annually in Academe.

ALABAMA

Auburn U

English, 9030 Haley Ctr Auburn University AL 36849-5203

Instructor in English

<http://www.auburn.edu/english>

We anticipate making several Instructorship appointments for the 2002–2003 academic year, with a starting date of August 16th. These are one-year full-time appointments that may be renewed by mutual agreement for up to four additional years. Women and minorities are encouraged to apply.

Minimum qualifications include an MA or PhD in English, broad literary training, a record of successful teaching of college-level composition, and interest in teaching both composition and world literature.

Full-time Instructors teach seven courses over two semesters, typically 4–3. The courses are 3-hr. core curriculum courses in freshman composition and Great Books (a sophomore world literature sequence). The typical pattern is two sections of English Composition I and two sections of Great Books I in Fall and two sections of English Composition II and one section of Great Books II in Spring. The starting salary is $27,500 (PhD), $26,500 (ABD), or $25,500 (MA); there is a possibility of summer teaching in addition. Full-time instructors are eligible for benefits, including health insurance.

With approximately 22,000 students, Auburn University is the largest comprehensive research university in Alabama. It is located in a small, attractive college town in the east central part of the state, conveniently near Montgomery, Birmingham, and Atlanta. The Department of English, which is the largest in the College of Liberal Arts, offers the BA, MA, Master of Technical and Professional Communication, and PhD. Additional information is available on the department's web site.

Send letter of application and vita to George Crandell, Head, Department of English, Auburn University, AL 36849. Applications will be accepted until the positions are filled; applications will be acknowledged by a department letter. Auburn University is an AA/EO employer. [R]

Creative Writing/Poet

<http://www.as.ua.edu/english>

The M.F.A. Program in Creative Writing at the University of Alabama in Tuscaloosa anticipates hiring a poet to join the current faculty (Robin Behn in poetry, and Michael Martone, Sandy Huss, and Wendy Rawlings in prose) in August 2002. This is a tenure-track position, rank to be determined. We seek a poet with at least one published book, substantial teaching experience, and ability to share administrative responsibilities.

Our thriving M.F.A. studio/academic program, celebrating its 30th year, enrolls about 60 students from around the country and the world, all of whom receive graduate assistantships for the duration of their three or four year program of study. Our supple curriculum, offering writing workshops in poetry, fiction, the novel, nonfiction, screen writing and new media, enables faculty members to teach, in addition to workshops, literature and/or forms courses that grow out of their interests. Faculty typically teach two classes each semester, graduate courses as well as offerings for our undergraduate creative writing minor. Each year, The Bankhead Visiting Writers Series brings a dozen writers to campus for readings, and the Coal Royalty Endowed Chair brings two writers for semester-long residencies. We are home to the Black Warrior Review as well as a fine undergraduate literary magazine.

The University of Alabama is the "Capstone" university of the state, located within the city of Tuscaloosa on the Black Warrior River. We are close to Birmingham and a short drive from several other major New South Cities. For more information about the program and the lively local culture, please visit our comprehensive web site: www.bama.ua.edu/~writing. Send letter of application, writing sample, and dossiers as soon as possible to Robin Behn, Search Committee Chair, Department of English, Box 870244, The University of Alabama, Tuscaloosa, AL, 35487-0244. We will begin reviewing applications on February 11, 2002, and continue until the position is filled. The University of Alabama is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer. [R]

The Program in American Studies and Ethnicity invites applications for a position in African American Studies, open rank, beginning fall 2002. Senior scholars, in particular, are invited to apply. This is a joint appointment with departments in the Humanities and Social Sciences. The Program in American Studies and Ethnicity recently has launched a Ph.D. program with intellectual strengths in the study of race and ethnicity, Los Angeles as a global city, and the analysis of culture. Successful candidates will have a strong research/teaching profile that contributes to at least one of the program strengths outlined above. We particularly welcome applications from scholars working in a comparative or diasporic framework, especially those engaging with the effects of global trends on peoples of African descent in the Americas. Junior applicants must have the Ph.D. in hand by August, 2002.

Send letter of application, curriculum vitae, and three letters of recommendation to Professor Teresa McKenna, Chair of Search Committee for African American Studies, Program in American Studies and Ethnicity, Waite Phillips Hall 303, University of Southern California, Los Angeles, California 90089-4033. The committee will begin reviewing applications on December 3, 2001, but will be accepting applications until the position is filled. For more information on the Program in American Studies and Ethnicity, see our website at: www.usc.edu/dept/LAS/pase/.

The Center for Talented Youth (CTY) at Johns Hopkins University runs academic summer programs for gifted elementary, middle, and high school students ages 8-16. The Harlem Renaissance course is for students ages 12-16. Our summer programs are designed to support and nurture academic talent by giving motivated, gifted students a chance to study at a pace and depth that match their abilities. Our programs serve over 9000 students and are held at colleges and independent schools in Massachusetts, Rhode Island, New York, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Virginia, and California. Every year, many of our strongest instructors are professors and advanced graduate students who are committed to teaching and to young people. We offer teaching positions in an intensive, structured environment where pedagogical experimentation is encouraged and mentoring relationships with experienced faculty are facilitated and valued. Classes are small (12-15 students); every instructor has a TA.

Additionally, we hire teachers and professors for administrative roles in the summer program. To see our job offerings, course descriptions, and sample syllabi, please visit <http://www.jhu.edu/gifted/ctysummer/jobs/>, call 410-516-0053, or email ctysummer@jhu.edu. <http://english.ttu.edu/>

The Department of English at Texas Tech University invites applications and nominations for the position of chairperson to begin September 1, 2002. Specialists in any field of English may apply. Applicants should have academic credentials commensurate with appointment to the rank of tenured professor and must have strong research, publication, and teaching records. Relevant administrative experience is highly desirable. We are looking for an individual who can work cooperatively with scholars of diverse interests. The successful candidate must be able to provide leadership in fostering department-wide excellence, and be able to develop a departmental vision that has both traditional and innovative dimensions.

Our department has 44 faculty members and supervises the following degree programs: ENGLISH, Bachelor of Arts, Master of Arts, and Doctor of Philosophy; TECHNICAL COMMUNICATION, Master of Arts; TECHNICAL COMMUNICATION AND RHETORIC, Doctor of Philosophy. The department also cooperates in interdepartmental programs in linguistics, comparative literature, and Women's Studies at both the undergraduate and the graduate levels.

Undergraduate English majors may specialize in literature and language, in technical communication, or in creative writing. They also may enroll in programs of certification for teaching on both the elementary and secondary levels of public schools. The department publishes three international journals—The Eighteenth Century: Theory and Interpretation, Iron Horse Literary Review, and Conradiana.

Texas Tech University is a state-supported institution with approximately 21,000 undergraduate and 3,500 graduate students. In addition to all the traditional colleges, a Law School and Medical School are located on campus. The University has a commitment to excellence in teaching, research, and service. Lubbock is the commercial, medical, and cultural hub of the south plains region. It enjoys a warm, dry climate, is located in spacious west Texas, and is within driving distance of the New Mexico mountains. Our modern airport provides easy nationwide access.

In keeping with the College's tradition of having chair searches administered by a colleague outside of the department, interested applicants should send a cover letter and complete CV, and have four letters of recommendation sent, to Dr. Bruce C. Daniels, English Search Chairperson, Department of History, Texas Tech University, Box 41013, Lubbock, TX, 79409-1013. Inquires and nominations may also be sent to the above address, or to bruce.daniels@ttu.edu. The review of completed applications and decisions about interview invitations will begin on February 15, 2002, but the search will remain open until the position is filled.

Texas Tech University is an EO/AA employer, and strongly encourages applications from women, minorities, and members of underrepresented groups. The University is also sensitive to the needs of dual career couples. [R]

NONACADEMIC LISTINGS

Educational Testing ServiceVerbal Reasoning Group/ Graduate and Professional, Rosedale Road
Princeton NJ 08544*Assessment Specialist*

(Several openings) The main responsibility of assessment specialists is to write, review, and revise test questions that are used in graduate admissions tests (the GRE and GMAT) to measure verbal and reasoning abilities, in particular, reading comprehension and informal logic. The position requires the ability to work independently and also in close collaboration with others. Additional responsibilities, depending on ability and experience, may include assembling tests, managing relations with freelance writers and reviewers, and responding to testtaker inquiries. Other responsibilities will include interpreting and evaluating statistical feedback on items after testing; writing and reviewing interpretive test preparation materials as required; and acquiring sufficient expertise in GRE and GMAT item types to act as a resource for the programs and the division and to act as a mentor for other staff. The minimum qualification for this position is a Master's degree plus three years of relevant experience; in exceptional cases an equivalent combination of education and experience would be accepted. The degree should be in a field requiring careful analytical writing; current and recent past members of the group have backgrounds in classics, English and American literature, history, linguistics, and philosophy. Preferred areas of professional experience are research, writing, teaching, and editing. ETS offers competitive salaries, an excellent benefits package, and an ideal environment for professional growth. Please send your resume, along with cover letter stating position title and salary requirements to Carol A Hawkes, Educational Testing Service, Mail Stop 5-D, Rosedale Road, Princeton, NJ 08541, FAX at (609) 734-1900 or e-mail to job8@ets.org. We regret we are unable to respond to each resume received. Only those selected for an interview will be contacted. [R]

<http://www.jhu.edu/gifted/ctysummer>

The Center for Talented Youth (CTY) at Johns Hopkins University runs academic summer programs for gifted elementary, middle, and high school students ages 8–16. Our summer programs are designed to support and nurture academic talent by giving motivated, gifted students a chance to study at a pace and depth that match their abilities. Our programs serve over 9000 students and are held at colleges and independent schools in Massachusetts, Rhode Island, New York, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Virginia, and California. Every year, many of our strongest instructors are professors and advanced graduate students who are committed to teaching and to young people. We offer teaching positions in an intensive, structured environment where pedagogical experimentation is encouraged and mentoring relationships with experienced faculty are facilitated and valued. Classes are small (12–15 students); every instructor has a TA. Additionally, we hire teachers and professors for administrative roles in the summer program. To see our job offerings, course descriptions, and sample syllabi, please visit <http://www.jhu.edu/gifted/ctysummer/jobs/>, call 410-516-0053, or email ctysummer@jhu.edu. We begin reviewing applications February 1 and continue throughout the spring. If you are attending MLA and wish to talk with someone there about CTY, please email aemurdy@jhu.edu.
