The successful candidate will be offered a wide range of teaching experiences from first-through fourth-year undergraduate courses to supervision of doctoral students; as well, the new faculty member will be responsible for developing and continuing to administer a digital version of English 210F, Genres of Business Communication. In addition to undergraduate programs in Literature and in Rhetoric and Professional Writing, our department offers the only PhD of its kind in Canada: an integration of literature with study in fields of rhetoric, writing, discourse and text analysis, and digital theory and design. The normal teaching load is 2 + 3, which includes one graduate course (of the instructor's design), and semesters are 13 weeks long. The minimum starting salary for this position will be $58,000 (negotiable). Please visit our website at <http://english.uwaterloo.ca> for more information. Appointment effective January 1, 2005.

The successful candidate will have the opportunity to participate in the growth of the digital humanities in Waterloo's Arts Faculty. The faculty houses the Canadian Centre of Arts and Technology (which features a state-of-the-art design, production, and testing lab), boasts a new Digital Arts Communication specialization, and works closely with UW's Centre for Learning and Teaching Through Technology (LT3). The University of Waterloo is a research-intensive public institution, with the largest and most successful cooperative education program in North America. Year after year, in Maclean's Magazine national rankings, Waterloo is among the two or three top comprehensive universities in the country and, for 11 years in a row, has been named "highest quality," "most innovative", and "best overall" in the national reputational survey. The university is located in a mid-sized city in the heart of Canada's Technology Triangle, one hour from Toronto, fifty minutes from Pearson International Airport. Consideration of applications will begin June 18, 2004. Please send letter, curriculum vitae, and supporting documents (graduate transcripts, writing and/or digital sample), and arrange for three letters of reference to be sent to: Dr. Murray McArthur, Chair, Department of English Language and Literature, University of Waterloo, Waterloo ON N2L 3G1. All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority. The University of Waterloo encourages applications from all qualified individuals, including women, members of visible minorities, native peoples and persons with disabilities. This appointment is subject to the availability of funds. [R]

Modern Language Association

Job Clinic on Nonacademic Careers, 26 Broadway New York NY 10004

Job Clinic at the Philadelphia Convention

2506

A Job Clinic for MLA members interested in employment outside the academy will be held at the 2004 convention in Philadelphia. The Clinic will again be conducted by Howard Figler, career consultant, author ("The Complete Job Search Handbook"), and former director of the career center at the University of Texas at Austin. The twenty previous clinics have been enthusiastically received by participants. The first job clinic was held at the 1984 convention. One participant praised a previous clinic for being "very well organized, reasonably priced." Another observed, "I feel that I now have a concrete picture of available opportunities and practical approaches to the job search. Dr. Figler really helped build my confidence and change my frame of mind to a more positive attitude. I especially appreciated that Dr. Figler's own background and the slant given to the seminar were pertinent to my own specific situation as an academic in transition." The clinic will assist in learning about career options and marketable skills, preparing effective resumes, locating jobs, and improving interviewing and negotiation skills. It will consist of five sessions that begin at 4:00 p.m. on 26 December (one day before the formal opening of the convention) and conclude at noon on 28 December. There should be minimal conflict with other convention sessions. The cost is $215 in addition to the convention registration fee; enrollment is limited. To receive further particulars, write or e-mail (rchustek@mla.org) with your name and complete mailing address to the MLA Job Information Service.
